MYSTERY MISSILE 'SEEN' IN ALASKA

Windy Display Mostly Bluster

Spectacular display of wind and wave along Victoria's waterfront yesterday was mostly sound and fury. Police throughout Greater Victoria by last night had received no reports of serious damage from high winds. Gale warnings are in effect for today.—(Ryan Bros. photo.)

Kiss Packed Costly Punch

CAMBRIDGE, England (UPI)—Kenneth Woor was fined $23.40 Friday for stealing his girl friend's pay envelope from her pocket as he kissed her good night.

Fired From Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. radar station in Alaska detected an object with "missile characteristics" fired from Russia toward the Pacific last night as the head of the U.S. space program said a Soviet man-in-space shot might be imminent.

As of early this morning the air force radar post at Shemya Island, Alaska, had not been able to confirm that the object landed in the ocean. No other free world tracking stations reported spotting the object immediately.

THREE SHIPS

The navy reported Wednesday that three Russian missile tracking ships were heading toward a target area about 1,000 miles west of Hawaii.

Because the Soviet ships were not expected to reach the impact area until today and Russia has not warned of a rocket shot, the navy was inclined to believe the object fired last night was a satellite rather than a missile whose nose cone the Russians would want to fish from the ocean. Other sources, however, felt the object was a missile.

NOT SURPRISED

T. Keith Glennan, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said he would not be surprised if the Russians tried to launch a man into orbit "any day."

Glennan said next Friday, the date of President-elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration, would be a "nice day" for a Soviet man-in-space try. He noted that in the past Russia has timed some of its space spectaculars to coincide with important events.

The space chief made his statement before the air force announced that its radar station had spotted the Russian object. It was the first time the United States has publicly announced it had spotted a Russian missile as it was launched.

Kennedy Position Perfect On Pact

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lands and Forest Minister Ray Williston of British Columbia said Friday that U.S. President-elect John Kennedy is in a "wonderful political position" regarding the Canada-U.S. Columbia River treaty.

The treaty is due for signature Monday by President Eisenhower's administration.

The minister stressed signature only meant the proposed treaty would be ready for submission to the U.S. Congress.

"There is still much work and examination to go on before the treaty is an action document," said Mr. Williston, who added there must be public hearings over applications for water licences.

He said an Eisenhower signature would mean the treaty could be considered by the new U.S. government without having to go back over a year's work with a Kennedy man.

Tot Still in Coma Charges Possible

By TED SHACKLEFORD

RCMP may decide today whether charges will be laid in connection with a head injury suffered by Leslie Hill, the three-year-old West Coast girl fighting for her life in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The child has been in a coma since she underwent a delicate, 2½-hour head operation early Thursday afternoon. Hospital bulletins have consistently described her condition as "critical."

ONLY CHANGE

Only change in her condition came yesterday when nurses reported some apparent weakness in the right side of her body. "She doesn't appear to have been moving her right side very much," a hospital spokesman said.

He added that any weakness would not be caused by the operation, but would be a result of the original head injury.

RCMP at Ucluelet completed their investigation into the circumstances surrounding the child's injury yesterday.

TO FLY BACK

Staff Sgt. W. R. Morgan, of Victoria, who flew to the West Coast town Thursday, will make an attempt to fly back to Victoria today, RCMP Inspector G. A. Gerrie said last night.

Poor weather may delay Staff Sgt. Morgan's return, but he is expected to confer with Insp. Gerrie immediately on arrival in Victoria.

VIGIL CONTINUES

Meanwhile, Mrs. Donna Hill, mother of the injured child, is continuing her vigil at the bedside. After remaining with the child from 11 a.m. Thursday morning, Mrs. Hill returned to her home at 1539 Belcher about 3 p.m. for a nap on the advice of the child's doctor.

Pale and drawn, with dark circles under her eyes, Mrs. Hill returned to the hospital early last night to continue her vigil.

"It's hard to tell if she knows me," she said. "She opens her eyes and just looks at you. About 1 p.m. I told her we love her and Linda (her 4½-year-old sister) is waiting for her to get better.

"She lifted her bad arm halfway over her body."

Martin Berates PTA President

VANCOUVER (CP) — Directors of the B.C. Parent-Teachers Federation said last night that at their meeting, Health Minister Martin attacked the president of the federation for what he called her "rotten remarks" about mental health and welfare services in the province.

A statement by the directors said the board met in Vancouver and backed president Mrs. H. L. Horan in her call for release of a survey by the American Psychiatric Association designed to improve B.C. mental health services.

TELEPHONE CALL

The statement said the meeting was interrupted by a telephone call from Mr. Martin who "berated Mrs. Horan for her 'rotten remarks' in the press."

The directors said Martin told Mrs. Horan he intends to take her remarks to the legislature.

In attacking the government on its mental health and welfare policy, Mrs. Horan had said:

"The government continues to advertise for highly-trained personnel and at ridiculously low salaries, and when they get no response they threw up their hands and said: 'We did the best we could.'"

RELEASE REPORT

PTA directors decided to write the government asking for the release of the psychiatric association report "at the earliest possible date."

Not Sorry

Describing the atomic bomb as a military weapon that brought the Second World War quickly to an end, former U.S. president Harry Truman said yesterday he was not sorry he gave the order to drop the first bomb in 1945.

Irish Tour For John D

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker will visit the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland in March, his office said last night.

Liberals 'Still Talking'

NANAIMO (CP) — The leader of the CCF party in British Columbia said Friday that welfare resolutions passed in Ottawa by the Liberal party convention "don't mean a thing."

Robert Strachan said: "The Liberals promised a health plan at a convention in 1919. That was 41 years ago and they're still talking about it."

Attention Spacemen!

OTTAWA (CP) — New air regulations promulgated Friday in the Canada Gazette include this one: "No person shall enter or attempt to enter any aircraft in flight."

More Welfare Men Blast B.C. Policy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Spokesmen for two more B.C. social service organizations said Friday night there is urgent need for improvement in the welfare services of the provincial government.

Dr. C. J. M. Willoughby of Kamloops, president of the B.C. Association of Community Funds and Councils, called for an investigation of the critical problems faced by the public welfare services and said fast action is needed.

WELL KNOWN

Father J. E. Reiter, executive director of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, said understaffing and overwork of the government services are well known to those involved in welfare work in B.C.

Dr. Willoughby said an increasing load of welfare work will fall in future on voluntary agencies.

"Our directors can confirm from their own experience the plight of many families and children requiring help from the provincial welfare services," he said.

INCREASE SEEN

He predicted increasing problems of delinquency and family breakdown.

Father Reiter said the provincial child welfare service placed only half as many Roman Catholic children for adoption in 1960 as in 1959. He said at least 15 children were denied an adopted home in 1960 who otherwise would have had a family.

UN Unit Battles Lumumba's Force

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters)—A United Nations spokesman Friday night said fighting has broken out in Katanga province's northern area between the United Nations force and invading troops of ousted Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba.

No details of the clash were available but it was believed here that five soldiers were wounded. There were no reports of fatal casualties.

Earlier in the day a UN spokesman confirmed that a Moroccan soldier was wounded when pro-Lumumba troops fired on a UN plane over Manono, a tin-mining centre in the north of the secessionist province.

About 600 pro-Lumumba troops invaded north Katanga Tuesday.

Bloodshed between the invaders and Katangan troops was feared and the UN was believed to be trying to get 600 Moroccan soldiers into Manono to head off trouble. A reported 200 Nigerian troops already are there.

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Western powers rejected as groundless Friday the latest Soviet charges that Belgium had committed aggression in The Congo.

The Western attitude appeared to doom to defeat a move by Asian-African nations to have the council find Belgium guilty of violating its trusteeship.

Mobutu Quells Unrest

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Congo strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu flew to the nearby Thysville army camp Friday and personally put down unrest that threatened to lead to open revolt against him and to freedom for jailed ex-premier Patrice Lumumba.

After a day of wildfire rumors, it was disclosed Lumumba still was behind bars at Thysville. Mobutu remained in control in Leopoldville province.

But a pro-Lumumba tide was spreading, fostered by Lumumba lieutenants in Oriental province, who were fanning out into neighboring Kivu and Equatorial provinces.

Co-operate with Canada —Then Slash Imports

BOISE, Idaho (CP)—The Idaho state senate Friday called on the United States government to ratify an international river treaty with Canada and to take action to reduce imports of Canadian lumber.

The Senate approved a resolution calling on the U.S. Congress to ratify an agreement with Canada which would lead to construction of the proposed Libby Dam in adjoining Montana.

A second resolution urged the federal government to increase tariff duties on lumber imported from Canada.

Took Mayor Seriously

TORONTO (CP)—Mayor Nathan Phillips says his wife takes his speeches seriously.

As he tells it, he had made a public pitch for the job-creating "do it now—don't wait for spring" campaign.

LISTENED CAREFULLY

"My dear wife," he says, "listened carefully to my speech. The next day I came home to find decorators and painters redoing my house.

"The darn speech will cost me between $600 and $700."

Force John D to Polls in '61 Liberal Goal

OTTAWA (UPI)—Liberals, whose confidence has been raised to top pitch by their successful national rally, hope to bring about a federal election before the present year is over.

A party spokesman said that when parliament resumes its sessions Monday, the mainspring of Liberal policy will be to force Prime Minister Diefenbaker to go to the country during 1961—preferably before the summer is over.

The Liberal spokesman denied that the Liberal intention was linked to any strategy of getting the election over before the New Party (CCF-Labor) becomes sufficiently organized to compete effectively for the support of the left-wing element of the electorate.

"Prime Minister Diefenbaker is not too likely to accept advice from our group. But we must make it as difficult as possible for him to resist it," he said.

ALL ABOARD

With G. E. Mortimore

When I tripped over a toy snowmobile, I got so angry that I burst into real estate language.

"There isn't room to turn around, with toys, children, animals and furniture underfoot," I said. "We need at least five BR, with lge LR and DR."

"Sorry," said my wife. "I didn't hear you."

"We need five BR, lge LR and DR," I repeated. "In other words, five bedrooms, large living room and dining room."

"See what's in the classified ads," my wife suggested.

"I couldn't buy a chicken house," I said. But I looked, anyway. The classified ads are always packed with drama, laughs, and sometimes sex.

Fascinating Reading

In scanning the ads, I became so fascinated with real estate language that I almost forgot what had started me on the subject.

"Here's a dandy," I said. "Neat modern bungalow featuring elec kit with DA, LR with WW carpeting and FP. 2 BR. Full bsmt with extra finished and heated room. Dr in garage . . ."

"Only two bedrooms," my wife said.

"What's DA?" I asked. She didn't know. Later I found that it meant "dining area."

"FP means fireplace," my wife volunteered.

"Here's a place with a cab kit," I observed. "What's that?"

"Cabinet kitchen."

"Here's another place that has 4BR and OOM," I said. "Don't tell me what OOM is, for a minute. I think of it as one of those words that mean 'vitality' or 'sparkle.' Those words seem to get out of date. 'The house that has ZIP.' 'The house that has PEP.' 'The house that has OOM.'"

Weary Explanation

My wife sighed. "OOM means 'oil-o-matic heat,'" she said wearily.

I picked my way gloomily among advertisements for houses and S by S duplexes that had OOM, HW heat, TV and NHA.

"What would you do with our place, if you did decide to go somewhere else?" my wife asked.

"Oh, sell it overnight to one of the people who advertise 'Wanted to buy houses.' I said. 'There are all kinds of them. 'Anxious purchaser.' 'Eager prairie client.' 'Impatient would-be home-owner.' 'Genuine client.' All of them advertise that they want to buy houses."

"But we haven't got OOM," my wife objected.

"No, but we have FP," I countered. "And we have a BFJ. In fact, we have a HFJ."

"What's that?"

"A basement full of junk — in fact, a houseful."

'Sea Grave' Claims More Lives

ASTORIA, Ore. (AP)—Cutters searching the treacherous waters at the mouth of the Columbia River Friday found the wreckage of two Coast Guard vessels and a fishing boat destroyed by crashing seas off Peacock Spit, a graveyard of ships for two centuries. Seven men were lost.

Four men survived Thursday night's disaster. Three were picked up by another Coast Guard vessel that limped seven miles to the safety of a lightship despite being badly damaged. The other seaman fought his way through breakers to the shore after being trapped below decks in a capsized vessel.

Quebec Mystery Grows

Mother Died Before Fire

MONTREAL (CP)—Pathologists' reports added new dimensions of mystery to the Vosburgh tragedy Friday.

Josaphet Brunet, director of the Quebec Provincial Police, said they showed Mrs. Abel Vosburgh was dead before flames levelled the tiny shack.

Mrs. Vosburgh, 43, had been believed to have died in the flames with 11 children.

Abel Vosburgh, 63, unemployed laborer, was the only occupant of the shack to escape. Four other children were away when the fire broke out Dec. 29.

The reports were prepared after autopsies on the bodies. Remains were exhumed Thursday, almost two weeks after they were buried in two coffins.

In another bizarre development, pathologists discovered the charred remains of an undistinguished object found in snow near the shack yesterday was that of one of the children.

Firemen who gathered the remains from the burned-out shell inadvertently placed the body of a dog in the casket with the rest of the remains and discarded that of the child, thinking it was the dog.

Quebec officials yesterday cancelled Vosburgh's $200 bail. He will be held under a coroner's warrant as a material witness. No charges will be laid until possibly Monday when the inquest, which first called the deaths accidental, will resume.

Vosburgh told reporters the day of the fire he had been awakened by the flames and ran outside, thinking his wife was following him.

He blamed the fire on an oil stove which he said exploded.

Some reports said the stove was almost new and there were no signs it exploded.

Your Good Health

Face Up to Food Facts Fat Schoolboy Advised

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, MD

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a boy of 16 and go to high school. I can't seem to get any dates because I am too fat. I have a big stomach and I weigh 190 pounds. I think that is too much for a boy of 16. I am writing to you for some advice.—R.R."

Well, son, from your letter there isn't much doubt that 190 pounds is too much. For you, anyway. There are a few high school boys, tall huskies, who can carry that much, but not many.

EASIER EARLY

Getting interested in your weight at the age of 16 is commendable. It's easier at that age, than later, to develop good habits. By that I mean eating habits as well as exercise habits. If dates are the thing that got you interested in losing some weight, that's fine. At your age you ought to be thinking about dating.

Here's my advice:

First, go to your doctor. Let's make sure, from the word go, that you don't have any glandular trouble. It isn't the usual cause of being overweight at your age, but sometimes it can be. Your doctor might, for example, want to make a basal metabolism test, or perhaps have you take a protein-bound iodine test, to see whether your thyroid is sluggish. If so, moderate medication sometimes makes all the difference in the world between a dreary struggle at reducing, and really getting yourself in shape.

FACE FACTS

Second, take honest stock of the way you eat. You're the sort of fellow who has the frankness to say "I'm too fat," instead of saying you are "plump," or "a bit overweight," or some such thing. So I'd say you're the kind of fellow who will face up to facts.

So ask yourself whether you eat between meals — candy bars, hot dogs, sandwiches, snacks, etc. If so, cut out all eating between meals. Depending on how much nibbling you do, it may be enough to take care of your weight problem without changing your regular meals.

SMALLER MEALS

Third, if you don't eat between meals, but your weight still doesn't begin to level off, you'll have to eat smaller meals. Or anyway different meals. More vegetables, raw or cooked, but less starch, less fried food, less fat, less sugar.

Whenever I encounter a young person who is overweight, I always try to find out about the rest of the family. Are they all heavy? Are they all hearty eaters? Is it the family custom to use a lot of gravies and cream sauces? Do they expect to have rich desserts at each meal? Pies, cakes, puddings?

If so, then the answer is simple: leave out these fattening things, and substitute green (or yellow) vegetables. Try an apple for dessert instead of pie, and, depending on the size of the apple and the piece of pie, you'll save 100 or perhaps 200 calories.

* * *

No Nibbles Between Meals

Fourth, get plenty of exercise. Maybe you'll huff and puff in the gym, but stick at it. Do a lot of walking. Do some setting up exercises. Go skating. Chop wood. The more exercise you get, the more your muscles will tone up and the more you'll enjoy exercising.

Good luck, young fellow. Good luck on your dating, and good luck all the rest of your life. Life will be more fun, and you'll live longer, and your chances of being ill will be less when you get your weight down to normal.

* * *

"Dear Dr. Molner: Is it a fact that coffee, tea, alcohol and all stimulants are forbidden when you are under treatment for glaucoma?—E.W.G."

Not necessarily forbidden, but quite commonly they are at least rigorously curtailed.

Unfit for Trial

Murder-Bid Suspect Back in Essondale

For the second time since he was first accused, a Victoria man has been sent to the Essondale provincial mental hospital, found mentally unfit to stand trial.

Joseph Altorjai, 1308 Douglas, was charged with attempted murder following a fracas involving a small axe in a downtown cafe last September. At that time he was found unfit to stand trial and sent to Essondale.

In December he was certified fit for trial and returned for a preliminary hearing in which he was committed for trial at the spring assizes.

However, since his appearance in court he has again been found mentally ill, and will go to Essondale "until complete or partial recovery is certified."

British Give Freely to Feed Starving Children of Congo

LONDON (CP) — A campaign to feed the starving children of the Congo, started by three London newspapers and taken up by a BBC television program, is getting a strong reaction from the British people.

One week after the campaign began, £50,000 has been received by an Oxford committee, £35,000 by the International Red Cross and nearly £20,000 by two other welfare organizations.

The £105,000 total exceeds by £100,000 the sum voted last week by the British government as a Congo aid fund.

ROME (Reuters)—A senior official of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization Friday warned that food supplies may run out for 300,000 starving refugees in the Congo's south Kasai area by the end of the month.

Without food donations from FAO members, "there will be virtually no food in the storehouses along the supply pipeline feeding the refugees by the end of January," the spokesman said.

Belgium Crisis

'Tighten Belts' Bill Passes

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The Catholic-Liberal government Friday rammed through the lower house the controversial austerity bill which divided the nation into warring camps and touched off waves of Socialist-led strikes and violence.

Vote was taken while 400 Socialist MPs decided to demand a federal state in South Belgium.

In forcing passage, Premier Gaston Eyskens turned a deaf ear to a Socialist plea for a national conference of "men of goodwill" to end the crisis before disaster overtakes the country.

The vote was 115 to 90 with one abstention, with Eyskens directing the fight from his sickbed at home. He collapsed on the floor of the house Thursday from exhaustion.

Stays in Exile

Deposed Laotian premier Souvanna Phouma yesterday was reported still in self-imposed exile despite attempts by pro-Western leader Premier Boun Oum to get him to join the government. Leftist-leaning Souvanna fled to Cambodia last December when his army was driven out of Vientiane, capital of Laos.

City Officials Clarify Assault Allegations

The chairman of the city police commission and the city prosecutor both said yesterday they could recall no cases in the past year of allegations of technical rape in Victoria in connection with girls under 14 giving birth to illegitimate babies.

But David Woodsworth, Family and Children's Service director, was not surprised.

CLARIFICATION

He said he wanted to clarify his statement of Thursday that there were between 25 and 30 girls under 14 who had had illegitimate babies last year, that many more were known to have had relations with men, that these instances constituted technical rape and that very few culprits nevertheless were picked up.

The figures he quoted, Mr. Woodsworth said, were for the whole of B.C. and not just the Victoria area.

MOST CASES

"And I may have left the implication that there was negligence in not laying charges of technical rape," he said. "But in most cases of this kind, there would be very little if any evidence because of the time lapse in discovery."

"If the police receive complaints, they will act for sure," said police commission chairman Mayor Percy Scurrah. "But to my knowledge, there have been none, none whatsoever."

"There have been very, very few if any," said city prosecutor T. P. O'Grady. "I can recall none."

A Prize Worth Winning

PREMIER BENNETT appears to have brought off a major stroke of business for British Columbia by persuading the four oil companies with refineries in the Vancouver area to use B.C. oil in their plants there as soon as it is available at competitive prices.

The Vancouver refineries have a daily capacity of 91,000 barrels—which is over nine-tenths of all the refinery production of the province—and although they are at present using only about 60,000 barrels of crude a day, it is a market for oil that is highly prized

But before Mr. Bennett's dream of having every automobile running on B.C. gas can materialize there are several problems still to be faced.

First, he has to get somebody to build a pipeline which will enable the crude of the northern part of the province to be brought to Vancouver as cheaply as Alberta crude can be delivered through the existing Trans-Mountain pipeline.

Second, he has to encourage the oil companies to go ahead with their exploration in northeastern B.C. to bring into production sufficient oil to meet the domestic demands of the province. At the moment B.C.'s wells are capable of producing 12,000 barrels a day, and because of its limited distribution in the Peace River area only 1,000 barrels a day are currently being marketed.

Oil experts, however, are quite confident that the oil potential in B.C. can be increased quickly as soon as the oil companies see a market potential justifying a stepped up exploration and development program in the area.

At least one pipeline firm has already answered the government's call for tenders for a pipeline from the Peace River area. It is TransPrairie Pipeline which has already built a gathering system in the B.C. northeast for the existing small refineries at Taylor and Dawson Creek.

TransPrairie says it can build a 300-mile pipeline to connect with Trans-Mountain at Alberta, just west of Jasper on the B.C. side of the provincial boundary in time to have oil flowing into Vancouver in 18 months.

The company estimates it could lay a 12-inch pipe with 40,000 barrels a day capacity for $20,000,000, or a 16-inch pipeline with 80,000 barrels capacity for $30,000,000. It would enable B.C. oil to be delivered at Vancouver competively for the total pipeline distance would be under 700 miles—or about the same as Vancouver is from the nearer Alberta fields.

It is proposed that initially the B.C. fields would provide Vancouver refineries with 10,000 barrels a day, rising to the full capacity of the pipeline selected as the oil production of the province increased.

If the plan is accepted the value to B.C. will be considerable. It would bring a great deal of new work to the B.C. north, and it would round off the oil and gas industry of the province that at the moment is top-heavy towards natural gas.

It would also bring new wealth to the provincial treasury. On each barrel of oil taken out of the ground, the B.C. government takes a royalty of 12½ per cent. On the current B.C. wellhead price of about $1.75 a barrel, this means over 22 cents a barrel to the province.

Simple arithmetic will thus show that if the line brought 10,000 barrels a day to the Vancouver refineries the annual revenue to the province in royalties alone would be over $800,000. For the present total Vancouver refinery run of 60,000 barrels a day it would mean around $5,000,000 a year.

The prize is a glittering one, and now that the co-operation of the oil refiners has been secured, it seems within grasp.

Faulty Headlights

DURING a recent spot check of motor vehicles in this area it was found that by far the greatest number of faults were in lighting systems. This discovery should surprise no one who drives at night.

Glare resulting from a driver running on the high beam instead of the low when there is traffic approaching is one of the worst dangers on highways and city streets alike. That is the fault of the driver, not the car.

There are, however, equipment faults which all motorists should be on the alert to correct. The commonest perhaps is the one-eyed vehicle. Except in the blaze of downtown lights, any experienced driver should be able to tell by the loss of brilliance in his headlights shining on the road ahead that one of them is out, and should not wait until the matter is brought to his attention by the police.

Another cause of trouble and danger to other motorists is the car with one light glaring and the other dipped. This may be due to faulty adjustment of the offending beam, or to the unit being put in upside down, in which case it doesn't matter whether the driver presses the dip switch or not: one or other light will always be glaring. Again, this is a fault which the driver should be able to detect from behind the wheel.

Far too many motorists take their headlights for granted, assuming that they are working all right because objects ahead can be seen. There are several ways in which lights can go wrong, and the responsible, prudent driver should check them himself periodically. If in doubt as to adjustment, he should have his service station apply the proper tests. Public safety demands this.

He Leaves It to Others

SOME statesmen keep diaries and private papers galore, so that they may either write their memoirs or leave behind them voluminous data from which their life story may be told. Perhaps they fear posterity's judgment without their own legacy of thought and opinion. Perhaps they seek only to make things easier for their biographer.

Either way Mr. St. Laurent for one is not a subscriber. He confesses that he never kept the kind of notes without which a man cannot easily write his memoirs, and for the reason that he didn't think he would be long in politics. In the former prime minister's case this rings true. He had a grace and dignity not too common among politicians which set him apart. Public life claimed him rather than the other way round.

In the result he would have to read 15 or 20 years of Hansard in order to compile his own personal story, a task from which he shrinks and can well be excused for doing so. It would daunt anyone except perhaps a person anxious to praise himself in print while he still had the chance.

Obviously Mr. St. Laurent will be content to let others assess his merits and the contribution he made to national life, although he has no need for qualms on the judgment that will be passed. But lack of his own memoirs will be a loss nevertheless. His seignioral air was inherent and not assumed, and undoubtedly his pen would have lent an urbanity to his reflections that would have enriched the literary and political scene.

Interpreting the News

In Defence of His Reign

By HAROLD MORRISON, Canadian Press Staff Writer

HISTORY may challenge President Eisenhower's argument that his personal tours and diplomacy were so successful that these successes led Soviet Premier Khrushchev to wreck the summit conference in Paris last May.

History also may quarrel with his contention that Communist imperialism has been held in check during the eight years of his administration and that the missile gap between Russia and the United States is really nothing more than fiction.

Eisenhower's final State-of-the-Union message to Congress is mainly a review of his presidency and a defence of that reign. It depicts the U.S. as confronting some grave problems but being, on the whole, strong and vibrant and fully capable of meeting the Communist menace.

The free world likely will agree with many of the points Eisenhower makes—that he is a man of peace and that he played a heroic role in keeping the world at peace in his eight years of office.

But the present state of the free world, the loosening of ties of long-standing alliances and the growth of Communist influence in the Caribbean also to some extent are testimonies to the calibre of Eisenhower's leadership, particularly in the latter days of his reign.

Could he have done more to influence the Communist side of the world? Could he have prevented the Cuban crisis? Was the U-2 spy plane flight really necessary before the Paris summit conference? Could not the president have foreseen the riots of Japan which forced him to turn back in humiliation from a planned visit to that country?

Any criticism that Eisenhower's regime may face from outside the U.S. derives from the fact that because of American strength, the president of the United States must in fact also be a leader of the free world.

Certainly the criticism that followed the collapse of the summit might be at variance with some of Eisenhower's statements.

"...AND WHAT ARE YOU UP TO?"

I Gotta New Vice

Picking One's Own Pocket

By CASSANDRA, from London

I GOTTA new vice. I would like to offer you an interesting variant of theft which I now practise. It is a delicate perversion that will appeal to those who have not yet graduated to armed robbery—but hope to do so.

I was brought up to regard not only money as a whole to be highly important and desirable, but also coins of the realm as precious things to be treasured, collected and hoarded.

In my 1961 household it so happens that this reverence for those round brown and white metal discs is lightly held. I find the odd threepenny bit on the mantelpiece; the odd tanner on the floor. And quite often a most welcome bob under the bracket clock.

I whip the lot. I make as much as five bob a week on this light-fingered larceny.

The money is carelessly left there by the family. The kids just don't seem to know how hard it is to corral up legal tender. Having swiped it quick as a flash with only the briefest glance ot see that nobody is looking, I begin to have doubts and say to myself: "So you've got so low, you dirty skunk, as to steal from your own kith and kin—have yer?"

Then I think: "Well, I gave the brats the dough in the first place anyway. What's wrong with that? If they don't take care of it in the end what's mine is my own—ain't it?"

Try it yourself. Picking one's own pocket and then bawling "Stop, Thief!" is an interesting twisted diversion for 1961.

For Generals Only

COLOR TV is of course inevitable —but I can wait.

The Americans, who are usually doubly quick to snap up anything new, have been curiously reserved about it over there. After four years of color TV, less than one per cent of all the TV sets that are sold on the other side of the Atlantic are color receivers.

Incidentally, when I was at Strategic Air Command ih Nebraska recently I saw what must certainly be the most exclusive color TV system in the world. It is a closed-circuit installation at headquarters and contains six receivers. They are enormous sets with huge screens and are installed only in the offices of the highest ranking USAF generals.

At 9 o'clock every morning a staff officer appears on the screen, salutes and gives the daily briefing of weather and an account of what is happening at any of the 70 air bases scattered all over the world under the command of SAC.

Don't Get Caught

THE American television film-inquest on the U2 plane which came down on Soviet territory was a revealing and intelligent affair.

Much of the luckless whitewash that the State Department had poured over the wretched business was scrubbed away and certain officials came out of it extremely badly. Notably Mr. Lincoln White, the spokesman for the State Department, who just wasn't telling the truth—or anything like it.

Another rather dishevelled figure emerged in the person of Mr. James Hagerty, the ubiquitous press secretary to President Eisenhower. He dodged and evaded, and when asked if any lesson had been learnt from the whole blundering affair replied: "Don't get caught!"

It is a philosophy that, in other fields, is shared by burglars, arsonists, rapists and murderers.

Gerald Waring

Reports from Ottawa

A POLITICAL innovation that might be called "open policies openly arrived at" was, from this reporter's viewpoint, a most refreshing feature of the Liberal rally.

In the past both Grits and Tories have operated their convention resolutions committees behind closed doors. Reporters knew what resolutions went into the committees and they knew what came out. But unless there was an inside leak, they didn't know what went on there—the conflicts and the compromises that produced the final policy.

This time the Liberals set up 21 resolutions committees on as many broad subjects, and reporters were free to wander in and out at will, to pick up copies of resolutions and other documents, and to listen as Grit disagreed with Grit over why some proposal should or should not be approved.

This was a degree of practical democracy to which we old convention hands were unaccustomed, and I revelled in it. I wandered from committee to committee, savoring the new flavor of this rally with gusto.

* * *

It was in these committees, not in the formal convention floor speeches, that you got the frankest, grass-rootiest comments on the Liberals' policies and prospects.

Like the wisdom of Toronto labor leader Burke Robinson, who is concerned about the appeal of the New Party. "If we can do something for labor before some other party does something for labor," he counselled, "we'll get into power."

Well, it may not be quite that simple. But neither was the task of reconciling the viewpoints of 1,200 voting delegates so the resolutions would be broadly acceptable when they got to the convention floor.

For example: health insurance. The doctors are jittery about "state medicine" — and the committee on health insurance was loaded with doctors who had little cause to applaud the proposed health plan that in effect would have them working for the government. Dr. D. C. McVicker of Deseronto was shaking with anger as he decried the plan's "deductible clause"—a sort of sliding means test. "And who in hell pays for the deduction?" he said. "The doctor!"

In the unemployment committee they turned thumbs down on a Vancouver proposal to pass laws against automation — the same automation that John Diefenbaker blames for unemployment. The proposal was "un-Liberal," declared former Alberta MP Dick Hanna. And a Manitoba delegate pointed out, quite correctly, that "We need all the automation that we have the wits to develop" to keep our production costs down.

* * *

More than 400 resolutions, some of them wholly impractical (one wanted laws against processed food because "people of Huntza, India . . . live 110 years on wholesome natural food"), had to be sorted and sifted for nuggets of political gold.

The job would have been impossible if the over-all policy committee hadn't provided the 21 resolution committee chairmen with what were called "working papers." These were draft policy statements combining selected resolutions and existing party policy so the committees had a tailor-made policy to approve, to hack up, or to add to as they weighed the individual resolutions one by one.

If it's grass roots the Grits wanted, the grass in the old Coliseum had never been rootier.

The Packsack

Time Measures Distance

By GREGORY CLARK

CITY people by and large have not the foggiest conception of what a mile is. Ninety per cent of them, counting the women, haven't the vaguest idea of what a hundred yards is. In cities, distance is thought of in terms of time. Ask a city man how far it is from one part of town to another and he will say, oh, 15 minutes, 20 minutes.

Block is another term of measurement to the city dweller. It is four blocks or 10 blocks from here to there. But how long is a block? Is it a hundred yards? Two hundred yards? Ah, there you have the city man. If he is a sportsman and has shot a bounding buck at 200 yards it will, on being measured, turn out to be 61 yards. But if he is not a sportsman, he has an even hazier impression of distance. He knows what a six-foot man looks like and has a rough idea of what a 50-foot frontage on a residential street amounts to.

A mile to a city man is one of the fuzzy things that spin past when you are doing sixty on the speedometer. If it is 80 miles from his office to his summer home, all that means is an hour and 30 minutes on a week day and two hours and 15 minutes on the weekend. Miles, you see, to the urban mind, are elastic things of no known length, width or depth in their own right, but are dependent wholly upon the passage of time.

60,000,000 Miles a Year

(From The Toronto Telegram)

THE year-end review of Trans-Canada Air Lines operations has revealed growth figures that any industry would envy. The year 1960 brought TCA into the jet age, and by midsummer the Canadian flag line will be the first intercontinental service operating entirely on turbine power.

TCA's total of passengers carried was more than 3,440,000 in the year just ended, an increase of 7 per cent. The line is entitled to be proud of its passenger load factor of 66 per cent. Its aircraft flew more than 60,000,000 miles in 1960, up 10 per cent, and its revenue ton miles jumped 11 per cent to 231,433,000.

Significant for TCA in the age of larger, faster planes is the extent to which freight traffic is building up at twice the rate of passenger traffic. It reports substantial increases in express and mail traffic as well.

Since October 1, TCA has made available round-trip excursion fares on the North Atlantic, and President Gordon McGregor is able to report "a tremendous effect in boosting overseas travel" in the late months of 1960. This is a triumph indeed, and it promises for 1961 a substantial boost in air services as the new planes and the new fares are available.

Second Tongue

Preference For English

By ROB MANSFIELD

DURING the first two weeks of January there has been taking place at the University College of East Africa, Makerere College, Uganda, a Commonwealth conference on the teaching of English as a second language. It is the first subsidiary conference to spring from the great Commonwealth Education Conference held at Oxford, England, in 1959, when this subject was among those discussed.

Why should the teaching of English be important enough to merit a full-scale conference? There are several reasons.

Since the 1939-45 war, the English has become increasingly used as a world language of communication, whereas before the war some countries chose other languages. Enthusiasts who felt that the world needed a common tongue often gave their support to Esperanto, or another of the artificially invented languages.

* * *

The emergence of the English-speaking United States of America as a world power has increased enormously the preference for English. Taking together the United States of America and the English-speaking population of the Commonwealth, about 290,000,000 people speak English as their mother tongue. For many years now English has been the first foreign language taught in schools in Europe.

English has been chosen in many fields where an international language is essential. To mention only one: all pilots on all international flights all over the world receive their taking-off and landing instructions in English. And how many lives might have been lost without a single universal means of communication?

English, in the same way, is the second language of most of the non-English-speaking countries of the Commonwealth. But here there are frequently far more important and over-riding reasons for constantly improving the teaching of English.

In many of the African countries, whether independent states or dependencies, a multitude of different languages, many without a written literature, is spoken. English has become the "lingua franca" in which the people of the same nationality, but different languages, speak to one another.

It is the language in which secondary and higher education is given, the language of much of the press, the language of government, the law courts and administration and commerce.

In countries such as these, a sound knowledge of English is an essential of good citizenship, as no one can play his full part in the development of his country unless he knows the language of government and administration. But in Africa and in other parts of the Commonwealth the teachers of English, on whom so much depends, are often unable to keep in touch easily with developments in the teaching of English elsewhere.

That is one of the reasons why the conference has been held. Its object is not to encourage the use of English where it is not already used. Its urgent task is to assist the teaching of English where it is being taught. Its aims have been set out as: "to provide opportunities for the exchange of ideas and experience among people from different parts of the world, who may not be aware of developments elsewhere; and to discuss ways and means of increasing efficiency at all levels, particularly in the difficult initial stages, in accordance with the needs and wishes of the countries concerned."

This conference is very different from the Oxford conference, which was attended principally by official delegations, intending to reach decisions for prompt action. The Makerere conference is largely a conference of non-official specialists—university professors and lecturers, experts in linguistics, teachers in training-colleges and schools, together with inspectors of schools, and educational administrators. They number about 55, representing 10-member countries of the Commonwealth and the same number of dependencies.

* * *

Many other parts of the Commonwealth have a valuable contribution to make. India and Pakistan can draw on their long experience; Australia can contribute techniques of teaching English by radio to foreign immigrants scattered over vast areas, and the conference also has had available the fruits of research on the subject done in many different places in the Commonwealth, such as the Central Institute of English at Hyderabad, and at Makerere College itself.

Unlike the Oxford Conference, the Makerere Conference will only make recommendations, with the aim of helping all concerned in the teaching of English, whether administrators, professors, teachers or authors and publishers of textbooks.

It is the first to be held under the aegis of the recently established Commonwealth Education Liaison Committee. Its president is the governor of Uganda, Sir Frederick Crawford, and its chairman is Dr. Michael Grant, president and vice-chancellor of Queen's University of Belfast, and formerly first vice-chancellor of the University of Khartoum.

Letters to the Editor

Slow Drivers

Congratulations on your leading editorial about slow drivers. Note, however, that the law does not merely compel travellers "at less than normal speed" not to obstruct others. It unequivocally enacts that a motorist should give way to "any vehicle . . . travelling at a greater speed."

In this article you so clearly realize a problem when you point out that the passing vehicle is often confronted with "other vehicles, nose to tail" and finds difficulty in coming back into line. Unfortunately I have never seen a driving handbook that warns a motorist of this obvious danger. He is told to stay a certain distance behind the car in front, only because of a possible emergency stop.

In a line of cars each driver must still travel at the same speed as the leading car whether the distance between him and the car in front is 20 feet or 70 feet. By allowing greater gaps between vehicles, each driver has a chance of moving up in line, leapfrog fashion, with some degree of safety.

Ministerial Double-Talk

You report that Highways Minister Gaglardi recently told a meeting that there was no recession in 1960, just an economic slow-down; also that "there was a solidifying of the situation which augurs well for the future."

Solidifying, forsooth! A fine example of "double talk." Whom does the honorable minister think he is kidding?

Job for Police

As a member of the tourist profession, and being conscious of the amenities and facilities which tourists to this city might reasonably expect, I am appalled at the apparent lack of consideration and vision on the part of the chosen members representing this fair city.

The ultimate surely must be to invite visitors to return, but after driving in Victoria during the day, this hazard has nothing compared with driving through the town at night.

Streets in the majority are ill lit, and there is almost a complete absence of illuminated street signs. It is virtually impossible to identify some of the pedestrian crossings, and the extraordinary false sense of security possessed by these walkers is something provocative and alarming.

The prerogative of the pedestrian in the right of way on crossing is a matter which demands immediate attention. Every day one observes the abuse this privilege obtains, the attitude of irresponsible teenagers and old ladies cannot be too strongly stressed, and on a wet greasy road their sublime ignorance is quite often only justified by providence.

The folly of this conception was long ago discovered in London, and illuminated beacons at pedestrian crossings have considerable virtue. There is a need for more education to walking members of the public, and this is something in which certain personnel of the police force could be directed.

The services of the police force could for example, be diverted from the onerous duty of placing chalk marks on government employees' cars parked in streets around Parliament Buildings, and so usefully perhaps obtain a more fully occupied time of these members of the civil service, who are at present otherwise occupied in playing cat and house with mobile policemen.

Ross Bay Cemetery

May I, in all fairness, say that upon enquiry I find that the Public Utilities Commission has correctly and legally advertised their intention to have granite chips removed from grave-tops, because of the danger of these being scattered and getting into the power mower blades. The removal, also, of broken curbs and cement from neglected graves has also been duly and properly advertised, and is necessary to maintain reasonable order and tidiness in this sacred domain.

Perhaps a little more explanation of what is intended would have been advisable.

Three men who went duck-hunting at forbidden times were each fined $10 and costs in Colwood police court yesterday.

Fined were Harvey George Wood, Glen Lake; Paul Andrew Medrich, 1116 Donna Terrace, and Hector Reid, 633 Goldstream. Reid was fined an additional $10 for hunting without a licence.

Charged in city court yesterday with theft of a doctor's medical bag, Theodore E. Stevens, Colwood Corner, was remanded to Tuesday for election of method of trial.

Bail was set at $1,000.

Accused was charged with stealing a medical bag belonging to Dr. L. Roberts, 3974 Telegraph Bay Road, from the doctor's car while it was parked outside Royal Jubilee Hospital early Thursday.

A stethoscope and case from the bag were found later on a front lawn at 1767 Coronation, and the bag and other contents in a washroom in Stadacona Park.

Magistrate William Ostler told accused that while no physical action was involved in the obstruction, accused did tell a lie to divert the officer from his legal task.

Victoria Man New Governor Of Kiwanis

For the third time in history, a Victoria club member will be installed tonight as Pacific Northwest district governor of Kiwanis International.

The new governor, Edward Mallek, will be installed at a dinner and dance in the Empress Hotel by the retiring governor, G. B. Frost of Oregon.

In turn, Mr. Mallek will install the new officers of the Kiwanis Clubs of Victoria and Oak Bay.

The district to be headed by Mr. Mallek includes Washington, Oregon, northern California, northern Idaho, Alaska, the Yukon and British Columbia. Within its bounds are 270 clubs with 13,000 members.

Previous district governors from the Victoria club were the late Harold Diggon and Kenneth Ferguson.

Ottawa Rejects Proposal For Parking Building Here

Victoria city is seeking legislation to enable it to take a lease on buildings for 20 years instead of five, according to Mayor Percy Scurrah, in the hope that private enterprise may be persuaded to do what the federal government has refused to do.

He proposed to Ottawa in the fall, he disclosed in an address to the Rotary Club, that the federal government put up a parking building to hold 300 to 400 cars and lease it to the city for 25 years, with the city renting some of the space to federal employees. The federal government has provided almost no parking space for 1,000 employees in three buildings on Government, he said.

But Ottawa, he told the club, rejected the proposal.

Double Duty

Serving second two-year-term as Oak Bay police commissioner, Gordon Carter yesterday became a Victoria commissioner as well. Mayor Scurrah said, after taking Mr. Carter's oath of office, "I'm hoping the liaison may work to advantage." Mr. Carter held similar post from 1952 to 1958.

U-2 Type Plane Liberals' Choice

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal party leaders favor a surveillance type of plane—something like the American U-2—to patrol Canadian air space, it was learned yesterday.

Party officials elaborated on views on defence expressed at the national Liberal rally here earlier this week.

The rally endorsed a resolution proposing Canadian withdrawal of manned and unmanned interceptors—that is, jet fighter planes and the Bomarc missile—from North American air defence operations.

But the rally voted in favor of Canada continuing its role in radar warning, detection and identification.

Identification can't be performed by radar. Aircraft are required to do this. But this side of the issue was left up in the air by the rally.

Canadian Air Space Patrol

It is known that Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson feels it is important that Canada patrol its own air space, especially over the Arctic, and not leave this job to the United States. In short, an eye in the sky.

Liberal defence experts said the entire apparatus for defending against a bomber attack on North America will be outdated in five or six years with the technical reliability of long-range missiles.

Consequently, it would be pointless to acquire new interceptors. However, there was a need for a plane to spot any incursion of Canadian territory, especially on the ground.

For the same reason, Mr. Pearson would like to see an atomic icebreaker operating in the Canadian Arctic archipelago.

Wall Street Establishes New Record

NEW YORK (AP) — In the broadest stock market session of history, the list surged forward to a substantial gain.

The number of issues traded soared to 1,292, the highest number ever traded in a single day.

A final spurt — the ticker tape ran late in the last eight minutes of trading — accounted for a good part of the rise.

Volume was 4,520,000 shares compared with yesterday's 4,270,000.

Ling-Temco topped the most active list, rising 1⅞ to 30⅜ on 127,600 shares.

Westinghouse Electric, actively traded and up 1⅝, and General Electric, up 2, recovered from heavy selling pressure.

Twelve-Day Rise

MONTREAL (CP) — The Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges closed higher for the 12th consecutive day.

Howard Smith at 39¼ added 3¼ and Frosst A was up two points at 21. Interprovincial Pipe Lines at 62⅝ rose ⅝ and Dominion Stores at 67½ gained ½. Gains of ¼ were made by B.C. Power at 36½ and Canada Cement at 26½.

Great Lakes fell ½ at 42½ and Atlas Steel at 23¼ declined ¼. Losses of ⅛ were recorded by B.A. Oil at 31⅜ and Trans-Canada Pipe Lines at 21¼.

Only Golds Falter

TORONTO (CP) — Industrials ended their period of "correction" to continue the advance that has marked them the last five weeks.

The rest of the stock market was mixed, with golds reflecting none of the cheer that Thursday took them to a 10-year high.

Western oils still were victims of profit-taking.

Mines Move Ahead

VANCOUVER — Mines continued to advance with Bralorne at 7.40, Craigmont at 6.70, Highland Bell at 2.03, Caribou Gold at 1.00 and Cowichan at .24.

Aluminium at $33⅝ and B.C. Power at $36⅝ were strong features among industrials, while Dominion Tar rose to $15⅞ on an increased dividend announcement.

Oils lost some of their recent lustre and changes were small.

BANKS ISSUE NOTES

Starting on Monday Canadian chartered banks will issue short term notes in a new form. They will be available in amounts of $100,000 and upwards at the following rates: 30-59 days, 3¼ per cent; 60-89 days, 3½ per cent; 90-179 days, 3¾ per cent; 180-269 days, 4 per cent, and 270-364 days, 4¼ per cent.

Toronto Editor's Advice

Stop 100,000 Drivers!

TORONTO (CP) — About 100,000 of Metropolitan Toronto's 550,000 licensed drivers should be taken off the streets, B. T. Richardson, editor of The Telegram, said Friday.

Mr. Richardson told a session of the 1961 Ontario Road Safety Workshops there should be more stringent enforcement of the law.

But there were complications. If all incompetent drivers were removed from Metro roads, Mr. Richardson said, there would be all kinds of problems with the vested interests, such as automobile interests.

"We've been through troubles with them before."

Machine's Goof Costs $1,800,000 in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—Looks as if a business machine's error will cost Seattle, King County and the Seattle school district $1,815,678 in tax revenue this year.

The machine "digested" a card twice.

It added $28,000,000 that wasn't there to the county's total assessed value, Clyde Berry, chief deputy assessor, explained.

Princess' Title Stays in India

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—The Indian government has rejected the claim of a Pakistani princess to succeed to the title of her father in India—which carries with it an annual $190,000 income—and has recognized her younger sister.

The unlucky princess, Abida Sultana, is the eldest child of the Nawab of Bhopal, once the second biggest Moslem-ruled state in India, since merged with Madhya Pradesh state. When her father died last February she sought recognition as his successor.

In a statement issued Friday, however, India recognized her younger sister, the Begum Mehr Taj Sajida, as the Nawab's successor.

The decision of Princess Abida to migrate to Pakistan in 1947 and her subsequent adoption of Pakistani citizenship are understood to have influenced the Indian government.

Duke's Second Parley In Canada May 13–June 6

TORONTO (CP)—The Duke of Edinburgh's second Commonwealth Study Conference will be held in Canada May 13 to June 6, 1962, it was announced Friday.

Sixty-five Canadians will be among the 300 persons engaged in the cross-Canada study dealing with the human consequences of industrial changes in the Commonwealth and Empire.

The conference will open at Montreal May 13, 1962. After a plenary session there, members will divide into groups of about 14 persons to study some 20 communities in Eastern Canada. A two-day meeting then will be held in Toronto and members then will head West.

Nuclear Warfare

Take Up Crusade Physicians Told

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — Observing that both pure scientists and preachers have failed to ward off the threat of nuclear warfare, industrialist Cyrus Eaton Friday night urged physicians to "take up the crusade" for peaceful use of atomic energy.

In an address at the annual banquet of the Hippocratic Society of the University of Western Ontario, the Canadian-born industrialist from Cleveland, Ohio, said the so-called pure scientists, possessing knowledge of the atom and "its awful capacity for misuse, have not succeeded in persuading the public of the mortal peril in which we live.

"Nor have the preachers . . . been able to slow the feverish preparations for nuclear conflict that will annihilate countless millions of defenceless women and children.

"Hopefully, the physicians will take up the crusade for the use of man's new control of the forces of nature for the common good instead of universal destruction."

He suggested physicians are suited to this duty because of their unique position of trust and respect in their communities.

Ike Will Send Congress Record Peacetime Budget

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will send Congress a record peacetime defence budget of $42,900,000,000, an increase of $1,400,000,000 over estimates for the current fiscal year.

Even so, it is about $1,000,000,000 less than the military forces wanted to carry out the stepped-up defence program which Eisenhower ordered last year.

Marked for cutbacks and stretch-outs are several aircraft, missile and space projects.

Power Cut In Saanich

Power was cut off in the Prospect Lake-Old West Road areas for more than two hours last night when a tree fell across the lines at 441 Brookleigh Road.

Reds 'Killed' Two Astronauts

HONOLULU (AP)—A U.S. army officer said Friday the United States has "good evidence" Russia has killed two astronauts in attempts to launch a man into space.

Lt. Col. Paul Hickman told a security conference one of the deaths occurred during Premier Khrushchev's UN visit and identity of one of the dead men is known. He added Russia's space agency underwent a shakeup last month.

At San Diego Open

Stan Leonard (Jesse James) Steals Show

SAN DIEGO (AP)—Stan Leonard of Vancouver shot a sensational six-under-par 65 Friday to tie Al Balding of Toronto and Eric Monti of Los Angeles for the second-round lead in the $20,000 San Diego open golf tournament.

Each had 36-hole scores of 135. The 36-year-old Balding, among the last to finish today's round, carded a 66.

But it was Leonard who shook up the house at the Mission Valley Country Club. He played the par 35-36—71 course in 32-33—65 in a round highlighted by a 90-foot chip shot for an eagle three on the 493-yard 10th hole.

A six-time winner of the Canadian Professional Golfers Association championship, Leonard was particularly hot on the greens Friday.

He sank one birdie putt from 25 feet and two others of 18 feet each to close out the round.

DEAD-EYE PUTTING

"I putted like Jesse James," said Leonard. "This is the best round I've shot in a long time."

Leonard shot 37-33—70 in Thursday's opening round. Balding carded an opening 34-35—69.

Leonard's worst hole came when he three-putted the 14th green from four feet. He stroked past the hole about a foot and missed the putt coming back. On the 15th hole, he overshot the green and took another one-over-par.

The last major tournament Leonard won on the United States circuit was the Western Open at Detroit, July 17. He beat Art Wall, Jr., in a sudden-death playoff by sinking a birdie putt on the first extra hole.

ONE BEHIND

Gary Player of South Africa, former British Open champion, shot a 69 to lag one stroke behind the leaders at 136. Arnold Palmer of the U.S., the hero of professional golf in 1960, remained in close contention with a 68 for 137.

Tied with Palmer were Billy Casper, Frank Stranahan, Frank Boynton and Jerry Barber.

Tommy Bolt contributed a ripple of excitement with a hole-in-one on the 189-yard seventh hole. Bolt finished with a 70 for 141.

The cut-off mark for the second round was 143. Sixty-one pros made it.

Other Canadians in the tournament failed to qualify for the final two rounds. Al Johnston of Montreal shot a 73 Friday for a two-round total of 149. Wilf Homenuik of Winnipeg carded a 79 for 156 and Jack Bisseger of Val Morin, Que., 76 for 153.

Cougar Boss Bewildered Fans Downright Hostile

By JIM TAYLOR

It's bad enough when a team quits scoring and quits winning, but when it quits trying the situation is about as bad as it can get.

Victoria Cougars are in that situation now, and no one knows it better than coach George Agar. After watching them take an 8-2 Western Hockey League drubbing at the hands of the supposedly weary Seattle Totems, he could only sit in a silence that was part discouragement, part disgust.

"We lose to Spokane on Tuesday because we don't check. So we do nothing but work on checking and talk checking until tonight. And still nobody hits anybody else," he said. "What can you do."

As of last night, Agar didn't know. But he'll be on the phone today talking to Edmonton Flyers, trying to make some sort of deal with a club that is in as tough a shape as Cougars and so now may be ready to talk trade.

It's been a dismal week for the Cougars. It started off with a 9-0 shellacking at the hands of Portland Buckaroos. On Tuesday they lost 4-1 to Spokane Comets. Then came last night. In five games they have scored six goals, and three of those came in an inspired effort last week when they beat Vancouver Canucks. The other games were played as if winning was a sin.

Winnipeg	38	13	23	2	104	130	28

Last night's scores: Seattle 8 at VICTORIA 2; Vancouver 6 at Edmonton 4.

Next games: tonight, Vancouver at Calgary; Portland at Spokane.

EVERYBODY SUFFERED

Cougars weren't the only ones who suffered last night. There were 2,442 fans at Memorial Arena who did some suffering of their own for two periods and spent the third booing their own team. When Bill Saunders and Bert Fizzell, two who worked hard, were chosen the two Cougar stars, they skated out for their awards to a reception that was downright hostile.

As they did against Spokane Tuesday, Cougars started out like world-beaters, and once again they fell behind on a screened slap shot by Frank Arnett that was credited to Marc Boileau when it bounced in off his skate. Then Don McLeod took a tripping penalty, and Les Hunt fired another long shot past Marcel Pelletier.

SWITCHED LINES

Agar did everything to try and shake the club up. He switched lines in the second period and it seemed to work for a while in the second period. But Bill MacFarland was left alone at one side of Pelletier, and Ed Ehrenverth dug out the puck for him to score. It was the first of three assists for the rookie, who was a Seattle standout.

George Ford got Victoria's first goal at 3.33, set up on a neat pass from Saunders. Then MacFarland was back to score again as Rudy Filion stood behind the Cougar net, deked Pelletier until he was going the wrong way, and gave MacFarland half the net to shoot at.

THREE QUICK ONES

Ed Stankiewicz scored before the period ended, and after Fizzell got his 12th goal to open the third period, Totems rapped three quick ones past Pelletier.

Pelletier, disgusted either about his team's play or his own, was an easy mark for Totems in the late stages. First it was Rudy Filion, then Stankiewicz, then Filion again with 35 seconds left to play.

Cougars are now five points behind Totems and only four out of the cellar. They go back to Portland for a game tomorrow, and in their present frame of mind they face a rugged task.

Agar summed it up when he said "They have to start hitting and trying again." He might have added, "And they better start soon."

Don't Go Away— Trade May Pop

Stay tuned for the next exciting chapter in Cougars-Warriors-Gerry James-Eddie Dorohoy saga. Jack Perrin, Winnipeg owner, and Jim Piggott, Cougars owner, are meeting today in Winnipeg to see if they can work out a deal where all parties in the much talked-about trade can be satisfied.

Cougars have been given rights to dicker with James, by Toronto Maple Leafs. Warriors own Dorohoy's contract and would gladly let Victoria have him for rights to James. But Leafs won't let James go to Warriors.

Neither player has played this season. James, if all else fails, would like to get his amateur card back and play with Winnipeg Maroons if they go after the Allan Cup.

Kerrisdale Skaters Capture Three Provincial Crowns

NANAIMO (CP)—The Kerrisdale club of Vancouver captured two out of three events here Friday night in the B.C. figure skating championships as the three-day event moved into the final day.

In the feature event, senior dance with two entries, Canadian champions John Mitchell and sister Donna Lee Mitchell of the Connaught club and Roger Wickson and Susan Kathleen Mann of Capilano put on an excellent display, with the champions coming out on top.

The Mitchell brother-sister team drew applause throughout their three numbers.

In the junior ladies' singles it was Trudy Norman of Kerrisdale who showed the way in a field of nine entries. She was followed by Susan Heffernan of Vancouver and Kerry Hodgson of Connaught.

The novice men's singles, with five entries, was won by Gordon Horsman of Kerrisdale. Right behind was Joey Summerfield of Capilano and Raymond Troyer of the Penticton club.

The final day's events has a close schedule starting at 9.00 a.m. with the senior ladies, junior men's free skating, veterans dance final, senior ladies free skating, gold dances, junior ladies pairs, silver dance finals, and the gold dance free dance.

There will be exhibitions by the junior ladies champion, novice men's champion, senior mixed pairs and senior dance champions.

Nanaimo Mayor Pete Maffeo will present trophies and ribbons to the winners Saturday night along with executive members of the B.C. figure skating association.

Canucks Eye First Again

EDMONTON — Vancouver Canucks handed Edmonton Flyers their 11th loss in 12 games here last night, then moved on to Calgary to try and take first place in the Western Hockey League for themselves tonight.

Canucks beat Flyers, 6-4, before 3,971 fans to climb into a tie with Stampeders for the league lead, and play the Stamps tonight in Calgary.

Frank Roggeveen paced Canucks with two goals, and Bruce Carmichael, Ralph Keller, Ron Hutchinson and Larry Popein added singles. Edmonton goals were scored by Don Poile, Ed Joyal, Lou Marcon and Ray Brunel.

The desperate Flyers had two new faces in the lineup. They traded Jack Price to Sudbury Wolves of the Eastern Professional League for defenceman Nick Palano, and brought up 18-year-old forward Wayne Mulion from Edmonton's junior Oil Kings.

Conciliation Talks Before Soccer Strike

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain's labor ministry said Friday night a conciliation meeting will be held Wednesday aimed at averting a strike of professional soccer players that is scheduled to start next Friday.

The chief obstacle in the negotiations is the professional league's "retain and transfer" system under which a player cannot join a new club without the consent of his present team.

League president Joe Richards said Friday night the league is determined to retain the system.

Pender 9-5 Over Briton

BOSTON (AP) — Paul Pender, the American who boxes like an Englishman, Friday was a 9-5 favorite to repel the challenge of Terry Downes, the Briton who fights like a Yank, in their title fight tonight.

The two clash in a television (ABC, 7 p.m., PST) 15-rounder at Boston Arena for Pender's share of the world middleweight championship. The 30-year-old ex-fireman from Brookline, is recognized as king of the 160-pounders by New York, Massachusetts and Europe.

Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, is hailed as champion by the National Boxing Association in the U.S.

This is Pender's first start since he beat Sugar Ray Robinson for the second time on a split decision in Boston last June. The rangy stylist, who boxes skillfully and features a snapping left jab, personally handpicked the 24-year-old Downes as an opponent after watching him fight in London last year.

GO-GET-EM BOY

Downes, an aggressive, go-get-'em type, earned the title shot by beating high-ranking Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in a ten-rounder in London last Oct. 11.

This was the eighth straight victory for the British champion who developed his boxing talent while serving with the U.S. Marines in 1954-5-6. A pro less than four years, the confident Cockney has racked up a 26-6 record, including 20 knockouts, in England.

The record is against the young invader. No Briton has won a world title fight in the U.S. since welterweight Ted Kid Lewis dethroned Jack Britton in this same city 45 years ago.

STYLE FAVORS PAUL

The contrasting styles seem to favor Pender, who also served a stint in the marine corps. The clever New Englander likes an opponent to come to him so he can work him over with stiff jabs and straight rights.

The champ's confidence also has been bolstered by his two decisions — split though they were—over Sugar Ray Robinson.

Sobers Hammers 152 For West Indies Side

SYDNEY (Reuters) — Garfield Sobers hammered the Australian bowling for a not-out 152 Friday as the West Indies cricket team built up a score of 303 for five wickets on the first day of the third test match between the two countries.

Sobers, recognized as one of the world's top cricket batsmen, was still slamming the bowling at the rate of a run a minute when poor light stopped play 48 minutes before the scheduled closing time.

Sobers' performance revived West Indian hopes of squaring the test series with the Australians. The first match ended in a tie and Australia won the second by seven wickets.

Sobers batted for just under four hours, hitting a six and 23 fours.

All-American Signs Contract With Lions

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia Lions of the Western Interprovincial Football Union announced Friday they have signed all-American lineman Tom Brown from the University of Minnesota.

The prize signing ended weeks of negotiations between Lions and Brown, considered the outstanding college lineman in the United States in 1960.

A defensive standout with Minnesota, Brown, 24, walked off with just about every honor a lineman can win.

He was named to the Look all-American team and was chosen all-American; all Big Ten and Lineman of the Year by both Associated Press and United Press International.

Brown will join the B.C. club, which finished in fourth place and out of the playoffs in 1960, from the college team rated number one in the U.S. last year.

He is six feet tall and weighs 235 pounds. Brown was sought by several teams and for a time it was thought he would sign with either Baltimore Colts of the National Football League or New York Titans of the American League.

Only last week Lions signed another name player, one-eyed quarterback Bob Schloredt of Rose Bowl champion University of Washington. Schloredt was all-American in 1959.

Schloredt and Brown were featured in the 1960 Rose Bowl game as Washington upset University of Minnesota, 17-7.

In Minneapolis, it was reported that Brown signed a three-year contract for some $50,000.

The Minnesota star said he had talked twice with Don Kellett, Baltimore Colt general manager, but no concrete terms were discussed.

"I'm completely satisfied with the terms I received from Vancouver," he said. "I also love the country in British Columbia. Added to that, I know the coaches from their Minnesota association."

Wayne Robinson, the Vancouver head coach, and assistant Skrien are former Gopher stars.

Big Bowling Boom Could Hurt Some

By JIM TAYLOR

Suddenly, everybody wants to build a bowling alley in Greater Victoria.

At the end of the 1959-60 season there was a total of 68 lanes in four houses. This season the total has jumped to 92 lanes in six houses, and by the start of next season it may have zoomed to as high as 164 with addition of four new centres.

News of the Loomer Lanes fully automatic, 24-lane fivepin house on Douglas Street broke some time ago. Plans are still in the making for the 10-lane house in the Hillside Shopping Plaza, but nothing has been said about whether they will be for fivepins or tenpins.

Now comes an application for an 18-lane five and tenpin house in the Fairfield Shopping Plaza, and rumors of another 20-lane house in Colwood.

Assuming all reports are true, it would seem something will have to give somewhere when all are operating. No matter how big a promotion is put on, there simply are not enough bowlers in this area to keep 164 lanes in business.

Addition of 16 tenpin lanes at Aurora Lanes and eight fivepin lanes at Sidney this season was met successfully, but some houses are having a tougher time than usual lining up teams.

With new houses full of automatic equipment to attract present leagues, it could be tough sledding for lanes without the machine pinsetters.

* * *

Harold Paulding was top man on the tenpin lanes for the week with a 620 (202, 235) series at Aurora Lanes. Others to break 600 at Aurora were Dave Barr, 610 (252); Ray Vater, 605 (232), and Denny Chang, 603 (232, 206).

Next in line at Aurora were Jim Ferrie, 598 (233); Ron Wilson, 596 (201, 215); Jim Mills, 593 (224) and 574 (212); Fred Shaw, 587 (210); Wilf Smith, 586 (214); Roy Harris, 586 (201, 213); Chuck Bennett, 584 (222); Ed Olivier, 582 (208); Rene LeBau, 577 (201); Stu Wismer, 575 (212); Danny Lore, 568 (203); George Faerber, 566; Len Murrant, 563 (218); Doug Aune, 562; Len Parsons, 561; Rich Lou, 560 (215), and Gary Bishop, 560 (215).

HIGH LADIES

Among the ladies the high scorers were Marg Cooper, 566 (201) and 537; Barb Tubman, 561 (237) and 541 (201); Flora Kirker, 560 (205); Mary Bashforth, 550 (213), and Marg Beaney, 549 (222).

At Gibson's, Mike Wengrovich had 590 (222, 208), followed by Norm Gamble, 557 (207); Sheldon Nipp, 557 (215); Wally McKay, 551, and J. Smite, 538 (200). Dot Bennett, 539 (210); Cas Gamble, 536 (201); Flora Kirker, 527; Anne Goodman, 518, and Peggy Trickett, 504, were the best of the ladies.

* * *

On the fivepin front, some of the biggest news came from Esquimalt Bowladrome, where Jack Goldie rolled an 833 (331) series and Shirley Kaye came through with a fine 831 (346) series. Next were Gary Roskamp, 806 and 803 (327); Al Majorki, 789 (364); Marg Goldie, 735; Bert Nelson, 777; Harry Booth, 776, and Jim Murray, 758.

At the Strathcona Bowling Alleys, Dave Allan bowled 843 (307). Ken Stokes checked in with 748, and Barb Drake bowled a 310 single.

At Gibson's, it was Bob Showers, 823 (305); King Lee, 763; Herb Hunt, 756; Bill Cool, 732, and Lil Jack, 728, who had the best reported scores.

Jack Goldie bowled 853 (307); Cec McRae, 806; Dave Carlow, 789; Emile Liska, 752 (301); Frank Choptiany, 744; Don Corbett, 739; Jeanette Lingle, 703 (302), and R. Starling, 701, at Capital City Lanes.

Speaking Briefly

Calgary Job to Dobbs

Canadian football has another Dobbs in the fold, and if Bobby Dobbs can do as well coaching Calgary Stampeders as elder brother Glenn did as player and coach with Saskatchewan Roughriders Calgary fans should be more than pleased.

The 37-year-old Bobby signed a contract for "more than one year" to coach Calgary, and so will leave Tulsa University where he has been head coach for six seasons and where Glenn is athletic director. He will bring with him Jess Thompson, a line coach at Tulsa, to join his staff.

Unlike the pass-happy Glenn, Bobby leans toward a ground game and usually came up with one of the top defensive teams in the United States in his career at Tulsa.

Dobbs admitted in Calgary that he knew almost nothing about the finer points of the Canadian game, which was why he would not sign for just one season.

Says Bernie Faloney

'They'll Have to Show Me'

HAMILTON (CP)—If I stay in Hamilton, the Tiger-Cats will have to rewrite my contract and in this contract they will have to show me in a material way that they really want me to stay in Hamilton."

This was the comment of Bernie Faloney just before he left his Ancaster home early Friday.

Faloney, who came to Hamilton from the Edmonton Eskimos after guiding the Western club to a Grey Cup, was traded to Montreal along with defensive back Don Paquette, for the services of Sam Etcheverry and end Hal Patterson.

Patterson has already inked a contract for the new season, but Etcheverry has decided to toss in his lot with the St. Louis Cardinals of the NFL.

"I know nothing about staying with the Tiger-Cats — I understand my trade to the Alouettes was unconditional, but if it's true that I may be offered the chance to once again play with the Tiger-Cats, on this I will have to do some real thinking," he said.

Jake Gaudaur, Ti-Cat general manager, who already has consummated half of the trade by signing Patterson, was not available for comment. It is believed he had already lost hope of gathering in Etcheverry in recent weeks.

Ti-Cat coach Jim Trimble was sorry to hear of Etcheverry's move.

"I think Sam should have wound up his career in Hamilton. But I guess he knows what he's doing."

And Sam?

Relaxing in Albuquerque, N.M., he said his signing reflects no animosity to Montreal or Hamilton.

"I was always happy in Montreal, but I guess I've always wanted to give it a whirl in the NFL." The Hamilton offer was "satisfactory" but not as good as the Cardinals'.

"Really, though," Sam reflected, "I didn't give him (Gaudaur) a good chance. I just talked with him once. I signed without getting back to him."

Soccer Executive Quits, Joins Scots

When second vice-president Bill Scobie heard that one of his Victoria and District Soccer League teams was in trouble he met the situation with the cool efficiency of a veteran executive. He quit.

That isn't as bad as it sounds, because Scobie resigned from the executive to return to active player status with the shorthanded Canadian Scottish club. He will be at his usual left full-back position when the Scots tackle Brodie's Bakery today at 2.00 p.m.

Jerusalem Cherry

By M. V. CHESNUT, FRHS

One of the most charming and popular "presentation" plants of the Christmas season is Solanum pseudo-capsicum, popularly known as the Jerusalem cherry. How it ever acquired this name, I haven't the foggiest idea, for it isn't a cherry—in fact, the bright little orange-red berries are mildly poisonous—and it isn't from Jerusalem, but is a native of Madeira.

It is a shrubby or semi-woody plant, second cousin to the potato, the tomato, the pepper and the egg-plant, all respected members of the Solanum family. The black sheep of the tribe is the deadly nightshade, a highly poisonous weed.

* * *

The Jerusalem cherry is an easy plant to raise, either from seed or from slips taken from another plant, and existing specimens can be grown on from year to year to make a really large plant. Seeds are available from most of the catalogue seedsmen or you can save your own by selecting a few of the largest and most highly colored berries. When these are ripe and beginning to shrivel a little, gather them and bake them on a sunny windowsill for 10 days, then cut them open, remove the seeds and dry them for a few days on a sheet of absorbent paper towelling.

The best time for sowing is late February or early March. Sow thinly in one of those squatty flower pots filled with rather sandy soil, spacing the seeds an inch apart each way. Cover with a quarter-inch layer of pure sand or vermiculite and keep in a warm place until the little seedlings come through. Water sparingly, keeping the soil only just moist and never sloppy wet, and when the tiny plants show, move the pot to a bright, sunny window, preferably in a coolish room.

* * *

When the seedlings are two inches tall, dig each one out carefully and transplant it to a three-inch pot of its own, again using sandy, free-draining soil. Along about next June they should be shifted to a bigger pot, five or six inches in diameter, in which the plants will bloom and bear their ornamental berries. The soil can be a little richer in this final potting.

When the baby plants are five inches tall, they should have their tips or growing points nipped off—a pruning which induces the formation of side shoots or branches. When these branches in turn are three inches long, they too should have their tips nipped off. The result will be a nice bushy plant, well furnished with flowering and berried twigs.

* * *

Home-grown plants will fare best outdoors for the summer months, with the pots sunk up to their rims in soil or ashes. Outdoors, insects will pollinate the little white blossoms, causing the "cherries" to form. Indoors, the flowers must be touched, each one in turn, with a swab of cotton batting on a match stick to transfer pollen from one bloom to another.

The outdoor pots are lifted and cleaned up in early October and brought indoors to the sunniest window in the house. The plants like a cool room, around 50 degrees, with plenty of water at this stage and an occasional dash of fertilizer. While abhoring sudden cold drafts, they need adequate ventilation at all times for, like their cousins the tomatoes, they are extremely sensitive to any pollution of the atmosphere. I have known a Jerusalem cherry to drop all its berries and leaves overnight when the pilot flame on a gas range was blown out accidentally, releasing a tiny trace of gas to the air.

Donors Group — To Aid Charity

Chest Failure Town's Gain

OWEN SOUND, Ont. (CP)—This city has just begun the second year of a revolutionary approach to the support of charitable and welfare organizations.

Instead of charitable agencies banded together to make a drive for funds, Owen Sound has a Donors' Association, representing the people who give the money.

* * *

Formed in the fall of 1959 under Chamber of Commerce sponsorship, the association in its first year enrolled 700 members who contributed $35,000 to 18 agencies.

The association came into being after the Community Chest, which represented only eight agencies, was disbanded.

* * *

The 1960 total of $35,000 raised by the Donors' Association was $7,000 more than the best ever achieved by Community Chest. It was below the total requirements of all agencies in Owen Sound and many had to conduct a campaign for their funds.

However, their canvassers were directed to pass up houses where front door stickers proclaimed the resident was in the Donors' Association.

And although they had to conduct campaigns, several agencies found that in the first conduct campaigns, the first year of Donors' Association operation their final totals exceeded anything ever realized before.

Association officials believe the plan has several advantages. A membership subscription card is sent to each household, listing the agencies expected to conduct campaigns for funds in 1961.

* * *

The donor, at his leisure, decides how much he can afford to give over a period of 12 months and allocates it to the agencies of his choice.

Unlike United Appeal campaigns, there is no budget committee to allocate funds to agencies or to trim agency budgets, because the Donors' Association has no set objective. If a donor wants all of his money to go to one agency, it goes there.

* * *

An individual must make a total donation of $100 to obtain the right to vote at the annual meeting. He may make his donation in a lump sum or by postdated cheques over the year. Some industries have instituted payroll deduction.

In 1960 expenses were 2.5 per cent of the total, less than $1,000, because all work was on a volunteer basis.

* * *

Founder of the association is G. P. Nelson, an American who is vice-president of an Owen Sound firm. He was president of the Chest when it disbanded and he recognized the need for a new approach.

Doctor's Charge — U.S. Agency Hit

Killer Drug Ignored

WASHINGTON (UPI) — New charges that the U.S. Food and Drug Administration neglected the public welfare by taking tardy action against a drug used in illegal abortions were being studied Friday by Senate investigators.

In a memorandum to the Senate drug investigating subcommittee, Dr. Barbara Moulton, a former FDA official, charged the agency knew for 3½ years the drug (Potassium permanganate) was causing needless pain and even death, but did nothing.

* * *

The FDA last summer banned over-the-counter sales of the drug except in greatly diluted solutions.

Dr. Moulton also criticized the FDA for allowing the sale of U.S. candy-flavored aspirin for children which she described as "one of the biggest killers." She said this aspirin should be banned.

She added the FDA had received letters from physicians "begging" for a ban on over-the-counter sales of bromides. No government action was taken despite what she termed "sufficient evidence" to support a ban.

* * *

"Probably several hundred men and women in this country every year are mistakenly diagnosed as insane and committed to mental hospitals, sometimes for months, as a result of self-medication with these (bromide) drugs, which are sold without prescription, in spite of the practically unanimous opinion of the medical profession that they should be restricted to prescription sale," she said.

Dr. Moulton said the abortion drug was not banned until she personally asked Health Secretary Flemming to investigate. She said FDA medical experts had recommended the ban as far back as 1957.

"Secretary Flemming had—as far as I know—no evidence in 1960 not available 3½ years ago," she said. "The long delay seems to me clear evidence of neglect of the public welfare."

Dr. Moulton said the drug was being used illegally by non-medical people in the mistaken belief it would cause an abortion.

* * *

"It will not," she said. "Instead it destroys the walls of the vagina, causing profuse bleeding which has resulted in some instances in death, in others in such severe scarring that normal childbirth was subsequently impossible."

Dr. Moulton was chief of the FDA's drug and device branch until she quit in a policy dispute last year.

Mussolini's Son 'Honorable'

HOLLYWOOD (NANA)—When Sophia Loren and her young sister Maria were children, struggling for existence in the poorest part of Naples, young Romano Mussolini was living a pampered life as son of the No. 1 man in Italy, late dictator Benito Mussolini. Now Romano is courting Maria, and his intentions in Rome are considered strictly honorable.

* * *

Donald O'Connor is after Mitzi Gaynor to star with him in the TV series he plans after finishing "The Wonders of Aladdin" for Joe Levine in Tunis. The proximity to the Algerian fighting has been a bit of a problem for Levine, with hundreds of Arab extras summoned from their movie jobs for military training.

That lovely Queen of Siam who is prettier than most movie stars has been brightening the Gstaad season—skiing with Princess Alexandra of Britain. The Douglas Fairbanksses are expected. And I am already nominating Doug as the most suave grandfather—daughter Daphne "expects" in August.

* * *

Jackie Gleason and Arthur Godfrey have decided "no rehearsal" for their take-over of the Red Skelton show on the 24th. "We'll get together five minutes before the show," says Red. "We'll sit down and when we go on the air we'll talk about anything that comes to our minds—sex, marriage, religion, juvenile delinquency, Cuba, anything."

Nice that freckled Glynis Johns' final movie chore should have been in the award-winning picture, "The Sundowners." And I'm delighted that Deborah Kerr finally had a script worthy of her talent as an actress.

With brother Steve winning a term contract at 20th Century-Fox, another relative, Dana's young cousin, Richard Parker, has a role in Buddy Bregman's new film, "The Evil Week." Richard started his Hollywood career parking cars, a la Kookie in "77, Sunset Strip."

One in 10 Steals Gold

TIMMINS, Ont. (CP) — After banking hours a few days ago, a group of men met quietly in a Timmins bank.

Attorney-General Kelso Roberts of Ontario was one, and the reason he was there was to see what could be done to stop miners smuggling out some $1,250,000 worth of gold a year from this Porcupine district gold centre.

HIGHGRADING

The wholesale thefts of gold —called highgrading because it involves sneaking out high-grade ore—are cutting fairly heavily into the mine companies' take, and also providing a sideline for perhaps one in 10 gold miners.

Newspapers say a syndicate directed from Montreal is buying up the highgrade—virtually virgin gold—at about half the official market price of around $35 an ounce and selling it in markets around the world for anything up to the $67 available in gold-starved India.

As one outcome of Mr. Roberts' visit, apparently, a special investigator from the Ontario Provincial Police criminal branch is being sent here immediately from Toronto, to reinforce special highgrade squad of the OPP.

Reports here are that from four to 10 buyers float around the Porcupine area—which has 11 gold mines—and pay cash for what miners can smuggle out.

ABOUT $700,000

One estimate is that buyers spent around $700,000 last year.

Stepped-up police activity resulted in 14 arrests here in the last month.

Highgrading is not new. Gold is brought out by many methods by miners, despite such precautions as having to strip, bathe and change clothing before entering the open air.

HAVANA—U.S. news photographer Frank Beatty, weak from malnutrition after six days in a Cuban prison, flew home to Miami following his release by Cuban authorities.

Castro Foes To Protest Canada Deal

WASHINGTON (CP)—A group of 200 anti-Castro Cubans plan a new demonstration outside the Canadian embassy today to protest Canada's trade relations with the Cuban regime of Premier Fidel Castro.

Canada is accused of giving "moral aid to Castro by expressing willingness to do business with him."

"I promised myself," she said, "if Kennedy won I would walk again from the Pacific coast to the Atlantic. While he's in office I'm sure we will have no war. He was in the war himself and he knows what it is like."

NEW YORK—Comedian Art Carney has been asked by NBC to delete from his television show next Tuesday an impersonation of President elect John Kennedy — in the interest of "good taste."

Sidney Audience Hails Symphony and Guests

By BERT BINNY

Victoria Symphony Orchestra with two guest artists, opened the 1961 season before a good, appreciative audience at Sanscha Hall in Sidney last night.

Conductor was Alexander Gibson, musical director of the Scottish National orchestra, and the items played were Elgar's famous "Enigma Variations" along with a pair of rather perplexing compositions by two other English musicians, Arnold and Britten.

BEETHOVEN WORK

Pianist Sheila Bates, who was most enthusiastically received, was heard in Beethoven's Fourth concerto.

The form of this work is always interesting and, in the second movement quite outstanding, a feature made plain by soloist and orchestra.

GOOD FEATURES

Close co-operation between Mr. Gibson and the orchestra and between Miss Bates and both were outstanding and pleasing features. This concert will be repeated Sunday and Monday at the Royal Theatre.

Toronto Tycoons Hustle To Raise $50,000 Bail

WINNIPEG (CP) — Two Toronto businessmen who dealt in firms worth millions of dollars took three hours Friday to raise $50,000 bail after they appeared in court on charges of conspiracy to steal.

Hugh Paton and D. Hubert Cox, principal owners or officers of firms valued as high as $3,000,000 were remanded one week without plea.

The men are accused of conspiring to steal money from Brandon Packers, a subsidiary of Great West Saddlery. They are principal owners of Great West.

Their arrest followed a six-month strike at the Brandon packing plant, a judicial inquiry into the dispute and a more specific inquiry into financial operations.

Italian Test Condemned

VATICAN CITY (UPI) —The reported generation of human life in a laboratory test tube by three Italian scientists was condemned as "immoral" Friday by the semi-official Vatican newspaper Osservatore Romano.

The experiment was conducted in Bologna by scientists headed by Prof. Daniele Petrucci, a Catholic. The scientists said an egg cell taken from a woman was fertilized by male sperm in a tiny glass container and developed for 29 days before it was destroyed.

'MONSTROUS'

Osservatore Romano said the creation or reproduction of human beings by artificial means in a laboratory would be "monstrous" and "sacrilgious."

Petrucci replied that he did not believe he had done anything immoral as a Catholic, and that the experiments will continue.

REAL OBJECTIVE

He indicated the creation of human life or even its beginnings was not the primary objective of the experiments.

The 37-year-old professor emphasized that the lengthy culture of human cells was only "incidental" to his research—that of finding better ways of replacing diseased human tissue with healthy tissue from another body.

Thefts Built Odd Library

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A High school senior girl has been charged with theft of more than 100 books from the Dallas Public Library. The girl said she "read them all, too."

Some of the book titles: Analytical Geometry and Calculus, Solar Energy, Pecos Bill, How to be a Better Speaker, How to Understand Politics, Basic Volleyball, Aerodynamics, and Basic Vacuum Tubes and Their Uses.

Naval Officer Vanishes

LONDON (Reuters) — A Royal Navy officer who had access to secret documents has been missing since Jan. 1, the admiralty said Friday.

He is Sub-Lt. Harry Drummond, 35, assistant staff communications officer at Royal Navy headquarters in Pitreavie, Scotland.

The admiralty spokesman said "The officer would know about signals and codes but we have no reason to think there is any question of defection."

Recall MLA For Lillooet Business Call

LILLOOET (CP) — The executive of the Lillooet board of trade has passed a motion demanding the recall of Social Credit MLA Don Robinson.

President Austin Greenway said the citizens can never find Mr. Robinson to get action on local problems. He said the board of trade is non-political "but our patience has run out."

He charged the department of highways with laying off men in the area while the government asks business to hold men to ease unemployment.

In Vancouver Mr. Robinson said more government money has been spent in Lillooet area since he became MLA.

He added he had spent so much time serving his riding he has been able to devote only 10 per cent to his own business.

Pork Prices To Stay High

OTTAWA (CP) — Findings of a Bureau of Statistics survey indicate that pork prices probably will remain at existing higher levels until next autumn.

Will Widen Quadra, Too

Victoria No Piker

Victoria isn't going to be made to look a piker by Saanich in developing Quadra as a secondary highway.

With provincial help, Saanich is rebuilding and widening Quadra from Cloverdale to Reynolds this year, reconstructed the portion from the city boundary to Cloverdale last year, and plans to complete the work to Royal Oak next year.

Not to be left with the only bottleneck on the new highway link, Victoria is ready to start — somewhat inconspicuously — widening the portion from Hillside to the boundary at Tolmie.

First part of the work, approved by council as a winter-employment project, will be to build new curbs and gutters along the edges of the sidewalks, although the sidewalks are now separated from the road by boulevards and existing curbs and gutters.

Next step, city engineer James Garnett said yesterday, is planned for the summer, with the aid of a provincial grant. Then, if plans are approved, the old curbs and intervening boulevard strips will be torn out and the road will be repaved to the sidewalk-to-sidewalk width.

Firemen, 'Insiders' Hold Oak Bay Line

Oak Bay firemen and inside staff have agreed to hold the line on salaries this year, Reeve George Murdoch said last night.

"The 1961 agreements will be based on the 1960 contract," he said.

The municipality is still negotiating with the outside staff and police force.

Reeve Skeptical

Oak Bay Centre 'Pie in the Sky'

Reeve George Murdoch last night threw cold water on suggestions that a large community recreation centre will be built on Fireman's Park.

"This is just pie in the sky," he said last night. "This is the first time I've heard of it. It has never been discussed by council."

And, he estimated, such a scheme would cost between $600,000 and $700,000.

● At least "one or two mills" would have to be added to taxes to cover loan repayments.

● A centre of the type suggested would never be self-supporting and would cost taxpayers money each year.

● There is insufficient room in Fireman's Park to contain such a centre.

Statement that Oak Bay council hopes to hold a vote this December on a new, municipal recreation centre, was made Thursday night by Coun. Gordon Elworthy, chairman of the council's parks committee.

SWIMMING POOL

Coun. Elworthy said the centre could possibly include a swimming pool, a skating rink, a gymnasium-auditorium with stage, various meeting rooms and a library with reading rooms.

"The parks committee seems to be preparing a sports arena, ice rink, swimming pool, auditorium and library," Reeve Murdoch said last night. "It is rather unfortunate that it got out prematurely, before it has been discussed by council.

PUT TO PEOPLE

"Until it has been approved by council it is pie in the sky. If council approves it a money bylaw will have to be put to the people before anything can be done."

However, he added, some form of community centre would be an asset to Oak Bay.

"I think it is an advantage to have a recreation centre," he said. "After all, we are a separate entity here and our people should have a place to go."

Unfit to Appear

Boy Charged With Stabbing

A 15-year-old Saanich boy was charged in juvenile court here yesterday in connection with the Thursday stabbing of a 15-year-old girl.

The information was laid in the absence of the accused, who is under medical care in the observation ward at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

A letter from a doctor was introduced in court, reporting the boy unfit to appear. The case was remanded until 2 p.m. Monday.

INJURIES LISTED

The girl, Carolyn Yates, 15, of 5915 Old West Road, meanwhile was reported in satisfactory condition in the same hospital. She suffered head injuries and a stab wound in the stomach.

The attack was alleged to have taken place at 3.30 p.m. Thursday on a rocky bluff near the girl's home.

STRUCK FIRST

Police believe she was struck first on the head with a blunt object, possibly a wooden club, then stabbed with a knife.

Police are still searching for the weapons.

A. L. Yates, father of the victim, said he could offer no explanation for the attack.

Seattle World's Fair Booth

$8,000 Wanted To Boost Island

Auditorium Committee Dormant but Alive

Victoria's special auditorium committee, appointed early last year by Mayor Percy Scurrah to study needs and possibilities, still exists but has no reason to meet at present, Chairman Ald. Austin Curtis said yesterday.

"I imagine we'll have a public meeting one of these days," he said.

Last activity of the committee, in the summer, was to compile data from civic auditoriums in other cities. But then it sat back to wait for a "possible development" which, Ald. Curtis said, might influence the course of its deliberations.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and publicity commissioner William Hawkins will visit up-Island municipal councils soon to persuade them to help pay the $8,000 cost of a booth in Century 21, the Seattle world's fair.

"We hope the booth will be able to represent the whole Island," Ald. Edgelow said last night. "Century 21 officials expect 12,000,000 people to visit the six-month-long fair in 1962 and we should be able to attract 500,000 of the visitors to the Island."

CHOICE SPACE

Ald. Edgelow this week reserved 650 square feet of "choice" display space on the fair grounds. The booth could stress the attractions of Vancouver Island and its nearness to Seattle, he said.

"We are going to need additional transportation over the period of the fair," he added. "Victoria is celebrating its 100th anniversary the same year and that, alone, will attract tourists."

Some of the larger buildings being constructed for the fair will be left in place after the fair to house large conventions, Ald. Edgelow said, and this is expected to draw additional tourists to the Pacific Northwest area in future years.

Campbell River

One Dead One Hurt In Crash

CAMPBELL RIVER — One man is dead and another in hospital here following an accident late yesterday afternoon involving a car, a light delivery and an oil truck.

Dead is Nicholas Eftoda, Willow Point, driver of a pick-up truck which was crushed beneath a northbound Standard Oil Company tanker.

Frederick Baker, a passenger in the Eftoda vehicle, is suffering a broken leg and back injuries.

Witnesses said the oil truck skidded into the path of the oncoming light delivery after driver Peter Byers applied the brakes to avoid colliding with the rear of a car which made a left turn in front of him. Byers was shaken up but apparently uninjured.

Lloyd Puttonen, driver of the car, was also unhurt and his vehicle sustained only minor damage when clipped by the oil truck from behind.

The accident happened about a half mile south of Campbell River on the Island Highway.

An inquest is to be held here on Monday.

Wet, Glare, Crowds Blamed for Crashes

Wet streets, headlight glare and crowded streets were all blamed for a rash of minor traffic accidents that plagued city and Saanich traffic departments yesterday—or maybe it was just the legendary curse of Friday the 13th.

A five-month-old baby and seven-year-old Mary Hogan, both of 1421 Mitchell, and Mrs. Mary Andrews, 525 Williams, were taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital with slight injuries suffered in a four-car collision at Oak Bay and Foul Bay.

Police said drivers of the cars were Ernest Warner, 3200 Exeter; Peter George, 3838 Saul; Richard Nelson, 812 Walker, and Roderick Dallin, 2348 Lincoln.

Christopher A. Pike, Belle Isle Motel, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital with shock and neck injuries when he stopped his car at the request of a policeman and was hit from behind by a car driven by Joseph Kedmenec, 1861 Feltham Road, police said.

Drivers of cars in a triple rear-end collision at Douglas and Market were identified by police as Fredrick Trafford, 1260 Laurel; David Linworth, 1307 Lyall, and Gloria Pope, 458 Brookleigh. There were no injuries.

At Moss and Fort a car driven by Malcom Williams, 4101 Cedar Hill Road, caught fire when hit by another driven by Edward J. Seigfreid, 893 Victoria.

In Saanich, cars driven by Robert Cedric Fuller, HMCS Fraser, and Richard Albany, 1215 Craigflower, collided with heavy damage but no injuries, and a car driven by Helen B. Dye, 5896 Patricia Bay Highway, was hit from behind by a car driven by Leonard Paul, Brentwood Bay, at Patricia Bay Highway and Piedmont, police said.

Varsity Staff Moves Today

"Operation Breathing Room" will begin at Victoria University this afternoon as members of the faculty move into 30 new offices in the recently-completed E. B. Paul Building.

Faculty members have had to share offices, sometimes as many as three to an office, said vice-principal Robert Wallace.

Shifting of records and equipment will begin about 12.30 p.m. and should be completed by 2.30 p.m. to 3 p.m. Official opening of the building will be held Wednesday afternoon.

Bowker Creek Drive Stands Good Chance

Signs at city hall augur well for the Victoria mother leading a drive to have further work done by the city to make Bowker Creek safer.

Mrs. Florence Rogers, 3044 Doncaster, has obtained more than 100 signatures on a petition for covering of the creek.

By coincidence, the part of the creek in her neighborhood is the part scheduled to receive first attention if city council approves engineering department plans at budget time, and Mayor Percy Scurrah has called for "continued attention" to it.

The creek, the mayor said in his inaugural address, remains a nuisance because as long as it remains open it will be a hazard to children; its meandering route destroys good building lots, its presence depreciates land values and its maintenance is costly.

"For these reasons," he said, "we should continue in our program of rerouting and enclosing this waterway in an adequate reinforced concrete underground culvert."

City engineer James Garnett said yesterday he hopes to see all of the city portion of the creek south of Hillside rerouted and enclosed in the next three years or so.

Art Show Possible

Paintings, tapestries and silverware from the Duke of Bedford's Woburn Abbey collection, now on show in Portland, may be exhibited in Victoria before being returned to England.

A spokesman for the Greater Victoria Art Gallery said yesterday negotiations are being conducted and it is possible the collection may come here while it is in the Pacific Northwest area.

Scouts Change Time

Starting time for a Boy Scout district staff training course, to be held at Scout headquarters, 1034 Johnson Street, has been changed from 11 a.m. to 1.30 p.m. Sunday.

Gallery Seeks Larger Grant

Art Gallery of Greater Victoria, citing its growing service to the community and its growing taxes, yesterday asked city council to increase its grant this year to $4,000 or $520 more than last year.

B.C. Pilot Plan Seen For Dental Insurance

The pilot project for Canada's first dental health insurance project will probably begin about two years from now somewhere in British Columbia, a dentists' spokesman said yesterday.

B.C. Dental Association representatives will discuss the scheme in Victoria next week with B.C. superintendent of insurance Thomas Cantell. An association official said, however, even if the plan is approved in principle in the near future, "there is still an awful lot of spadework to be done."

So far the association, which plans coverage similar to that provided by MSA and MSI for medical expenses, has no definite timetable for the project. It has chosen neither the group to be covered by the pilot project nor the area in which it is to be conducted—though Victoria is among those being considered.

No Santa Next Year

Santa Claus may be conspicuous by his absence from one Victoria home next Christmas — he was stolen from the front yard last night. S. F. Bernard, 3126 Jackson, reported to police that a six-foot figure of the grand old man was apparently taken by thieves.

Speed Up Air Terminal Mayor Beseeches Ottawa

Mayor Percy Scurrah yesterday expressed concern again over delay in the start of construction of a new air terminal at Patricia Bay.

"I have had no further word from Ottawa," he said, "but I have written the deputy minister (of transport) asking if he can possibly accelerate the plans and the building because I personally feel we should have the terminal open for the spring of 1962.

"If we can attract half a million visitors from the Century 21 Exposition in Seattle we are going to need every possible means of transportation, and in my opinion should have it ready to create a good impression. We should have the facilities we will need to handle the passengers."

Their Time Is Your Time For the Price of a Plug

Peter Bruton's Capital Notebook

THE HARD SELL: There's a local telephone number you can dial if you want to find out the time.

But you're in for a unique experience before a sugar and honey voice comes on the line to purr: "The time is 5.13 p.m. exactly."

"Hello, this is Gary Cooper!" screams a voice as soon as your call is answered. This is followed instantly by a second voice with the hard sell: "You can't beat the prices at . . . For a deal and a good deal more buy at . . ."

Our J. T. Jones did a little research. He made 44 calls, one after the other.

Each commercial began with a voice stating this was such and such a Hollywood star. Names included Janet Blair, who asks you to buy certain coal and oil; Mitzi Gaynor, Lloyd Bridges and Frank Sinatra, who all appear crazy about a certain brand of automobile; Jimmy Stewart, plugging a delicatessen; Ann Blyth, a clothing store; and so forth.

THE BIG SQUEEZE: Further details of the provincial government's crackdown on spending for the next three months continue to filter into this receiving station.

An informant tells us that one result of the financial squeeze in the education department is that no new pupils will be added to correspondence school rolls until after April 1 next.

We would normally accept Education Minister Leslie R. Peterson's "that's news to me" comment without question. But the bland manner in which Premier Bennett denied the existence of any, crackdown orders has made us a trifle suspicious.

Then there is the notice addressed to all civil servants which reads, in part:

"Telephone traffic on the parliament buildings switchboard is steadily increasing. Operators and equipment are being used to the maximum and this situation will be aggravated by additional demands during the following session of the legislature. It is not policy to add equipment or operators at this time . . ."

CLEAN SWEEP: While having our locks trimmed and shorn yesterday we asked barber Bill Inkpen what was the best way of getting rid of dandruff.

"Use a vacuum cleaner," he said.

"Eh?" we asked.

"A vacuum cleaner," replied Bill. "Nine out of 10 homes have them. Just wait until your hair is dry and free of goo, take the nozzle off, and run the suction hose over your scalp. I've been recommending it for years."

LONG AND SHORT HAULS: Slogan of Island Tug and Barge could well be "No job is too big or too small."

The company, which has some of the largest salvage jobs in the world to its credit, the other night dispatched the tug Island Trooper to the rescue of a small, 12-foot skiff which went adrift from Harbor Marine.

SUNNY RETREAT: Former B.C. superintendent of child welfare, Miss Ruby McKay, who sparked the rapidly-mushrooming controversy over provincial welfare services, didn't stay around to watch the fireworks after she dropped her "bomb" a week ago.

She is on a month's vacation in California.

Anglicans Streamline Catechism

LONDON (AP) — A new catechism will be considered by Church of England leaders in convocation this month.

A commission of bishops and laymen appointed by the archbishops of Canterbury and York recommends some sweeping changes to the 300-year-old document.

It has aimed to set out "the minimum basic facts necessary for instruction in the Christian faith."

To do this it has simplified the teaching, modernized the language and taken note of changed social conditions.

"I should renounce the devil and all his works, the pomps and vanity of this wicked world, and all the sinful lusts of the flesh" becomes simply:

"I would renounce all that is wrong and fight against evil."

★ ★ ★

A familiar phrase that also disappears is that stating that in the sacrament of holy communion the body and blood of Christ are "verily and indeed taken and received."

The new wording:

"The body and blood of Christ, spiritually and truly given by Him and received by the faithful."

"Duty towards my neighbor" has been extended to include kindness to animals.

★ ★ ★

The Fourth Commandment is boiled down from 100 words to 33 and begins simply:

"The seventh day is the sabbath of the Lord God."

In the 10th Commandment one no longer is asked to say:

"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house . . . thy neighbor's wife, nor his servant, nor his maid, nor his ox, nor his ass, nor anything that is his."

It has been cut to four words: "Thou shalt not covet."

★ ★ ★

Marriage is mentioned for the first time.

One of the new questions is: "What is holy matrimony?"

Answer "Holy matrimony is that state in which a man and woman become one, as husband and wife, in a lifelong union."

Another question is: "What is the church's ministry in marriage?"

Answer: "To bless the man and woman in their wedding, so that they may together receive the grace of God to use rightly the instincts implanted by Him, and to perfect their love for each other and for their children in a Christian home."

Rev. Harold Riley, synodical secretary of the Convocation of Canterbury, observed: "An educational instrument now 300 years old was in need of revision to make it suitable for use with the modern child."

Tour of the Holy Land Church Paper's Plan

The Observer, national publication of the United Church in Canada, will conduct a tour of the Holy Land this year.

The tour will be guided by the managing editor of the publication, L. E. Homewood, and Mrs. Homewood. The party will leave Toronto and New York by plane July 15.

Information may be obtained by writing the Observer Holy Tour, 85 St. Clair Avenue East, Toronto 7.

The tour will also include Italy, Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Israel, Turkey and Greece.

Protestant Priest:

Country Club Ban On Former Jew 'Sin Against God'

NEW YORK (AP) — A Protestant Episcopal rector Thursday barred from holy communion any of his parishioners who sanctioned the black-balling of a young Jewish convert from a country club dance.

Rev. George French Kempsell of the Church of St. James the Less said his parishioners who barred the youth from a Christmas debutante ball at the Scarsdale Country Club had committed "a sin against God."

"If our Lord Jesus Christ had come back to earth in Scarsdale in time for the holly ball, He would not have been allowed to escort a young lady of this parish to that dance," Kempsell declared.

The youth was born Jewish but was converted to the Episcopal church, he said.

Kempsell said the boy was to have escorted a debutante to the dance but the club's board of governors declared him unacceptable. The girl cancelled her debut.

Kempsell said the Book of Common Prayer is his authority for the ban.

REV. GEORGE KEMPSELL

Says City Cleric

Churches Meet Population Boom

Are churches keeping pace with Canada's rapidly expanding population?

Dean of the faculty of divinity at McGill University doesn't think so, but Canon R. E. H. Howell of Christ Church Cathedral says Victoria churches are.

CREATE NEED

Dean Stanley Frost of McGill said in a letter to heads of the Anglican and United Churches in Canada increases in immigration and a post-war birth rate will create a need for many new parishes.

"The churches need to plan immediately if they are to be ready both for the strain which will be placed upon their resources and for the opportunity which the new communities will present," the letter read.

SPEEDY MOVES

It also stated the lack of new ministers "is a situation which calls for speedy and effective measures."

Canon Howell agreed there is a shortage of ministers. He said there has always been a shortage and more stress must be placed by individual churches on young people's work, especially with those closely connected with the church, such as choir boys and the altar guild.

But, a church building shortage . . . "that certainly isn't true of Victoria."

"We have a total of 19 Anglican churches in the Greater Victoria area and during the past five years construction was carried out on such new ones as St. Richard's, St. Peter's, St. Christopher's and St. Chad's," he said.

EVERY AREA

"There is a large Anglican population here, with churches in every area, and so far as St. Christopher's is concerned, we foresaw subdivision expansion on Carey Road before it ever happened," said Canon Howell.

THE VOICE OF ONE

By REV. DR. FRANK S. MORLEY

The Archbishop of Canterbury will convince no one that his visits to the Ecumenical Patriarch of Constantinople and to Pope John XXIII were not highly significant, coming as they did with the creation at the Vatican of a secretariat to deal with Christian union and the proposal of the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of the American United Presbyterian Church to constitute a "Catholic and Reformed Church" from the Episcopalian, Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian Churches.

Last year I had a lengthy interview with His Grace, Patriarch of the Greek Orthodox Church, in Istanbul, and was astonished at his passionate thesis that the primary task of the church was federal reunion of Christendom with the Roman Catholic Church an essential member.

One fact is certain: only a new church can help the new world. In the most luxurious civilization the world has ever seen, we have an insane fantasy of moral relativism, a depersonalization featured by loneliness, alienation, vulgarization, obscenity and spiritual rootlessness. Self-pity is a dominant trait of our times, with the beatnik as its deformed, hideous spawn.

Contempt for Truth

The technological revolution has merely begun. The next 10 years will see marvels of labor - abolishing machines, space research, pharmaceutical and surgical advance, house lighting and heating, food packaging, and development of television. Yet it is an amorally drifting world in which the U-2 incident disclosed our contempt for truth equal to that of the Communists, while modern novels have revealed the rout of sexual morality, and the movie and theatre, the comic strip and television, have devalued human life.

Bigness is suspect no longer. Small business men and small family farms are downgraded. The shrinkage of individuals has destroyed the sense of human worth and suicide sets new records. Prime Minister Nehru says our greatest problem is "how to bring about the moral and spiritual standards . . . the problem of creating a fully integrated human being."

Church Lost Status

The business corporation has more to do with the forming of morals and values than the church. The Christian Church has lost status as creator of a community in which all races, nations, classes and sexes are equal.

It has watched without sufficient concern the anguish of the Negro struggling to join the human race. It has been guilty of a pietism founding a sanctuary for "good, decent folk," often cutting itself off from the agony of a broken world. It has assisted by its programs to widen the gulf of a tragic lack of empathy between the older and younger generations.

Its majestic Calvinism has been radically watered into a faith in a manageable, marketable God, whose chief end is to glorify the projects of man. Even the labor movement has lost its idealism. No longer does it glorify work or service to society, or strive to increase the worth and dignity of the worker, but rather reveals a sorry readiness to accept corruption, aiming wholly at a materialistic cupidity, with laziness the supreme good.

A new church with a new vision is the only hope of the world for the re-creation of heroic man, for a "fall-out of hope," for the recovery of meaning in history, and for the revelation and demonstration of the Beloved Community.

Young Baptist To Show Israeli Visit

Baptist ministerial student Walter Ellis will give an illustrated sermon on a two-month tour of Israel at evening service Sunday in First Baptist Church.

Canadian-born evangelist Rev. Fred Jensen of Iowa is conducting a series of special meetings at Evangelistic Temple, corner of Blanshard and Queens.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: I am 12 years old and having a big fight with my parents. They think I should go to bed at 8.30 at night during the week. All the good TV shows go on then and I don't get any entertainment all night. Please answer in the paper and tell me what you think of parents who like to watch TV themselves but don't let their kids watch.—TREATED TERRIBLE.

Dear Terrible: You say "all the good shows go on after 8.30." Like what? If you tell me which "good" shows you want to stay up for I'll write to your parents in your behalf—if I agree.

I haven't seen many TV shows of late worth looking at—day or night. Some excellent ones like Mr. Wizard, Kukla, Fran and Ollie and The Search were thrown off to make way for more shoot-em ups and murder stories. You rattled the wrong cage, Junior.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: A year ago my husband's sister came to Ohio to live. She wrote ahead and asked if she and her two sons could stay with us for a few weeks "until they found a place." I said all right.

Two weeks later she found a steady job, with good pay. This is a year later, Ann, and they are still in our house and show no sign of moving out. She used to go out looking for apartments (found something wrong with every single one) but she doesn't even look any more.

I have three children of my own and I'm exhausted from my work, not to mention hers. She thinks because she works all day she shouldn't do anything at night. I take care of her kids just as I do my own, do their laundry, and cook for the whole gang.

She pays $14 a week for everything. It doesn't even cover the grocery bill. My husband sits there like a dummy. What can I do? — DISH RAG

Dear Rag: you sound like a pair of dummies to me. Tell Her Royal Highness she has two weeks to find a place or she'll have to go to a hotel. Remind her every day that she has just so many days left. When she discovers you mean business, she'll leave—and not until.

* * *

Dear Ann: If I don't get some help I'll crack up. I am 25 and have made lots of mistakes in my life. Two years ago I met a man who was willing to accept me, knowing I was no angel. He assured me he loved me and nothing else mattered.

We live together and everyone thinks we are married. I learned recently that I'm pregnant. I want to get married right away but he doesn't. He firmly believes that marriage ruins love and that it's nobody's business what we do, so long as we treat each other right. I have talked to him until I am blue in the face and I can't get him to see it my way. Please, Ann, where do I go from here?—MIXED UP.

Dear Mixed Up: Ever try to get a farmer to buy oats for a dead horse? Same thing. Your only hope is to tell him you'll settle for nothing short of marriage now that a child is on the way, and stick to your guns even if it means going it alone.

Sale and Treasure Auction At the Art Gallery, Feb. 4

The Victoria Art Gallery will be filled with bargain hunters on Saturday afternoon, Feb. 4, when a mammoth sale of better quality superfluities will be combined with a treasure auction.

Doors will open for the superfluities sale at 1.30 p.m. Antique jewelry, fine china and glass, paintings, lamps and "treasures" of all kinds will be auctioned by Mr. Wilf Lund at 3 p.m. Items for the treasure auction will be on display at the Gallery prior to the sale.

At the meeting of the women's committee held Wednesday evening the convener, Mrs. R. T. FitzPatrick, appealed for donations for the sale, which may be left at the Gallery or will be picked up by phoning EV 2-3226. Money raised will be used to bring exhibits to Victoria.

President, Mrs. R. Stark, announced that the new hot water boiler donated by the women's committee had been installed in the Gallery.

Following the meeting, guest speaker Mrs. Margaret Harvey, member of the Canada Council for British Columbia, gave an interesting talk on the work of the Council in administering the only government controlled foundation fund in North America, and told of the assistance it gives to students of the arts, humanities and social sciences. A vote of thanks was moved by Mrs. R. McKean.

8 CARDS OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and relatives for their kindness, words of sympathy, lovely floral tributes, generous donations in memory of our late husband and father and all those that assisted us in our recent bereavement. Special thanks to Rev. M. F. Leung and McCall Bros., for their courteous service—Mrs. Chung Hamm and family.

I wish to thank my friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy and for the beautiful floral offerings in my recent bereavement.—James V. Cordick.

9 IN MEMORIAM

PITT—In loving memory of my dear husband, Alfred R. Pitt (Fred) who passed away Jan. 14, 1960.
His memory is as dear today,
As in the hour he passed away.
—Inserted by his wife Marion and family.

WARWICK—In loving memory of my beloved wife Marge who passed away Jan. 14, 1960.
Her loving face I hope to see again,
Though the days have passed away;
Sleep on, dear wife, and take your rest,
They miss you most who loved you best.
Sunshine passes, shadows fall,
Love's remembrance outlasts all;
And though the years be many or few,
They are filled with remembrance, dear, of you.

WARWICK—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Margaret Warwick, who passed away Jan. 14, 1960.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Always tender, fond and true;
There's not a day, dear mother,
We do not think of you.
—Louise, Lorraine and Philip.

Winning Contract

By HOWARD SCHENKEN and RICHARD L. FREY

BRIDGE QUIZ:

A double raise at partner's bid made in response to your opening bid isn't quite the same kind of forcing bid as a double raise of partner's opening bid. It may be passed (although as a matter of fact it rarely is) since, if the opener is strong enough he can jump all the way to game. Nevertheless, the double raise indicates a strong hand.

With both sides vulnerable, the bidding goes:

North	East	South	West
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	?

What should South do now with each of the following hands?

(a) ♠ J 10 7 5 4 ♥ 2 ♦ A 7 6 ♣ 8 7 5 4

(b) ♠ A 10 6 5 4 ♥ 7 3 2 ♦ 7 3 2 ♣ 8 6

(c) ♠ A 10 6 5 ♥ K J 4 3 ♦ 7 6 2 ♣ J 5

(d) ♠ A 10 7 6 ♥ 10 ♦ Q J 9 4 ♣ Q J 8 6

(e) ♠ K J 9 4 2 ♥ 7 ♦ K J 5 4 2 ♣ A 2

(f) ♠ Q J 9 4 3 ♥ K 2 ♦ K 4 2 ♣ A K 3

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ:

(a) Four spades. Partner almost surely has at least nine cards in the majors. Your diamond ace, combined with the possibility that you can get rid of diamond losers on partner's hearts, should produce a tenth trick.

(b) Pass. The likelihood of four quick losers, or three quick ones and one slow one (in hearts or spades) is too great to justify another bid.

(c) Four hearts. Slam will depend on North's controls and distribution in the minor suits, but you should show your excellent heart support if for no other reason than that you may gain by having the lead come up to partner's hand.

(d) Three no trump. You may have four quick losers at spades, yet score an easy game at no trump.

(e) Four clubs. It is much more important to show first round control in clubs than the long suit in diamonds. Maybe partner can cuebid diamonds over four clubs.

(f) Four no trump. If partner can show three aces and, later, one king, you'll be able to bid a grand slam with almost 100 per cent certainty of making it.

Never before in Canada has a comparable architect designed home been offered on a large sewered lot at this price, down payment and terms. This home can only be described in the terms such as exclusive, distinctive, unusual, luxurious. It has features that you find only in architect's more expensive custom-designed homes. The result of a leading architect's years of training, education, experience and ability. These are some of the things only he is qualified to do so well. Design the entire house so that the exterior is appealing using setbacks, panelling, woods with attractive finishes, etc. Colours which are co-ordinated by their repetition throughout the house and to emphasize the important features of the house. Design the house so that the rooms can be furnished properly and attractively. No room too small — no room with waste space. The work areas are functional—no extra mileage required. Lots of cabinets (just about double the standard) a serving bar for the dining room, built-in G.E. oven and range. A dining room that's large enough for table and chairs, china cabinet, serving area. A living room where you can LIVE — furniture placed for relaxation—an attractive, specially-designed fireplace. Bedrooms that will accommodate twin beds with good-sized closets. A large, easy-to-keep-clean bathroom — with ceramic tile floors and splash around the tub and a large vanity. This is the design. The construction is the absolute finest by Victoria's best contractor. Vickery Construction—Better built with better materials at a lower cost—a written guarantee. You truly live on a millionaire's estate—140 acres of natural park, play areas, boulevards, beach nearby, and your home landscaped for you. In the preferred Gordon Head area but NOT in the new high tax Gordon Head sewer area. Think of this—a new world of living in your home of the 60's for $90.50 per month (P & I) NHA. Taxes $246.00.

Serious Grievance

Union Fights to Keep Untidy Mister Tom

SEPULVEDA, Calif. (UPI)—Labor and management are involved in serious grievance sessions at the Electronics Corp.—over a cat.

The union, industrial local 1662, carpenters, AFL-CIO, wants Mister Tom the cat to remain at the Los Angeles suburban firm where he has been the workers' mascot since wandering in about 1955.

NOT TIDY

Management is reluctantly backing a new security officer who ordered Mister Tom to go on the ground that his housekeeping methods aren't the tidiest.

"If necessary, we shall submit the matter to the state conciliation service for arbitration," local president Charles Powers, 38, said Friday.

"Mister Tom is a regular part of the company and he's a terrific morale builder," said Powers. "Everybody loves Tom."

* * *

'Terrific Morale Builder'

And, suggested Powers, a little sandbox by the door might just settle the whole thing if the company will agree.

The union took its first action Wednesday after about 300 of the firm's nearly 600 workers signed a petition called "Operation—Save Our Cat."

Powers and George Brodney, personnel director of the firm, met as prescribed by the union-management work contract to discuss the grievance.

Powers, following the steps for pressing a grievance, arranged with Brodney to call in outside help for their next meeting within 14 days.

TWO SIDES

"Nick Cardell, the representative of the Los Angeles district Council of Carpenters will sit in with me and Mr. Brodney will have at his side Mike Komraroff, a labor management relations associate," said Powers.

With grievance sessions still pending, Tom has been taken home by one of the guards.

Guilt-Ridden Hiroshima Guide Again Judged Mental Case

WACO, Tex. (AP)—One of the men who took part in history's only use of the atomic bomb as a war weapon, Claude R. Eatherly, is back in hospital by court order for mental treatments.

Acting on a request by his brother for Eatherly's confinement, a jury adjudged the decorated Second World War flier insane Thursday.

The decision capped a series of incidents landing him in jail the past eight years.

Eatherly, now 41, flew a reconnaissance plane just ahead of the 1945 A-bomb strikes at Hiroshima and Nagasaki in Japan. Psychiatrists say that as a result of the raids, the tall and affable Texan developed a nagging guilt complex, although he did not actually drop the bombs.

He once told R. O. P. Constantine at the Veterans' Administration Hospital here he held himself to blame for killing 100,000 people in Hiroshima.

Tower Will Replace Swiftsure Lightship

The famed Swiftsure lightship which guards the approach to Juan de Fuca Strait will be replaced in the near future by a derrick-like Texas tower, if the recommendation by the U.S. Coast Guard is acted on.

The recommendation, which came out of a public hearing held in Seattle this week, will be forwarded to Coast Guard headquarters in Washington, D.C.

The Canadian department of transport marine division has already changed some of its west coast navigation beacons to assist the Coast Guard in its change.

The lightship is best known as the turning point for the annual Swiftsure ocean yacht race.

Kennedy

Position Perfect On Pact

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lands and Forest Minister Ray Williston of British Columbia said Friday that U.S. President-elect John Kennedy is in a "wonderful political position" regarding the Canada-U.S. Columbia River treaty.

The treaty is due for signature Monday by President Eisenhower's administration.

The minister stressed signature only meant the proposed treaty would be ready for submission to the U.S. Congress.

"There is still much work and examination to go on before the treaty is an action document," said Mr. Williston, who added there must be public hearings over applications for water licences.

He said an Eisenhower signature would mean the treaty could be considered by the new U.S. government without having to go back over a year's work with a Kennedy man.

Tot Still in Coma Charges Possible

By TED SHACKLEFORD

RCMP may decide today whether charges will be laid in connection with a head injury suffered by Leslie Hill, the three-year-old West Coast girl fighting for her life in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The child has been in a coma since she underwent a delicate, 2½-hour head operation early Thursday afternoon. Hospital bulletins have consistently described her condition as "critical."

ONLY CHANGE

Only change in her condition came yesterday when nurses reported some apparent weakness in the right side of her body. "She doesn't appear to have been moving her right side very much," a hospital spokesman said.

He added that any weakness would not be caused by the operation, but would be a result of the original head injury.

RCMP at Ucluelet completed their investigation into the circumstances surrounding the child's injury yesterday.

TO FLY BACK

Staff Sgt. W. R. Morgan, of Victoria, who flew to the West Coast town Thursday, will make an attempt to fly back to Victoria today, RCMP Inspector G. A. Gerrie said last night.

Poor weather may prevent Staff Sgt. Morgan's return, but he is expected to confer with Insp. Gerrie immediately on arrival in Victoria.

VIGIL CONTINUES

Meanwhile, Mrs. Donna Hill, mother of the injured child, is continuing her vigil at the bedside. After remaining with the child from 11 a.m. Thursday morning, Mrs. Hill returned to her home at 1539 Belcher about 3 p.m. for a nap on the advice of the child's doctor.

Pale and drawn, with dark circles under her eyes, Mrs. Hill returned to the hospital early last night to continue her vigil.

"It's hard to tell if she knows me," she said. "She opens her eyes and just looks at you. About 1 p.m. I told her we love her and Linda (her 4½-year-old sister) is waiting for her to get better.

"She lifted her bad arm halfway over her body."

Fired From Russia

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. radar station in Alaska detected an object with "missile characteristics" fired from Russia toward the Pacific last night as the head of the U.S. space program said a Soviet man-in-space shot might be imminent.

As of early this morning the air force radar post at Shemya Island, Alaska, had not been able to confirm that the object landed in the ocean. No other free world tracking stations reported spotting the object immediately.

THREE SHIPS

The navy reported Wednesday that three Russian missile tracking ships were heading toward a target area about 1,000 miles west of Hawaii.

Because the Soviet ships were not expected to reach the impact area until today and Russia has not warned of a rocket shot, the navy was inclined to believe the object fired last night was a satellite rather than a missile whose nose cone the Russians would want to fish from the ocean. Other sources, however, felt the object was a missile.

NOT SURPRISED

T. Keith Glennan, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said he would not be surprised if the Russians tried to launch a man into orbit "any day."

Glennan said next Friday, the date of President-elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration, would be a "nice day" for a Soviet man-in-space try. He noted that in the past Russia has timed some of its space spectaculars to coincide with important events.

The space chief made his statement before the air force announced that its radar station had spotted the Russian object. It was the first time the United States has publicly announced it had spotted a Russian missile as it was launched.

Martin Berates PTA President

VANCOUVER (CP) — Directors of the B.C. Parent-Teachers Federation said last night that at their meeting, Health Minister Martin attacked the president of the federation for what he called her "rotten remarks" about mental health and welfare services in the province.

A statement by the directors said the board met in Vancouver and backed president Mrs. H. L. Horan in her call for release of a survey by the American Psychiatric Association designed to improve B.C. mental health services.

TELEPHONE CALL

The statement said the meeting was interrupted by a telephone call from Mr. Martin who "berated Mrs. Horan for her 'rotten remarks' in the press."

The directors said Martin told Mrs. Horan he intends to take her remarks to the legislature.

In attacking the government on its mental health and welfare policy, Mrs. Horan had said:

"The government continues to advertise for highly-trained personnel and at ridiculously low salaries, and when they got no response they threw up their hands and said: 'We did the best we could.'"

RELEASE REPORT

PTA directors decided to write the government asking for the release of the psychiatric association report "at the earliest possible date."

More Welfare Men Blast B.C. Policy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Spokesmen for two more B.C. social service organizations said Friday night there is urgent need for improvement in the welfare services of the provincial government.

Dr. C. J. M. Willoughby of Kamloops, president of the B.C. Association of Community Funds and Councils, called for an investigation of the critical problems faced by the public welfare services and said fast action is needed.

WELL KNOWN

Father J. E. Reiter, executive director of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, said understaffing and overwork of the government services is well known to those involved in welfare work in B.C.

Dr. Willoughby said an increasing load of welfare work will fall in future on voluntary agencies.

"Our directors can confirm from their own experience the plight of many families and children requiring help from the provincial welfare services," he said.

INCREASE SEEN

He predicted increasing problems of delinquency and family breakdown.

Father Reiter said the provincial child welfare service placed only half as many Roman Catholic children for adoption in 1960 as in 1959. He said at least 15 children were denied an adopted home in 1960 who otherwise would have had a family.

Not Sorry

Describing the atomic bomb as a military weapon that brought the Second World War quickly to an end, former U.S. president Harry Truman said yesterday he was not sorry he gave the order to drop the first bomb in 1945.

OTTAWA (UPI) — Prime Minister Diefenbaker will visit the Republic of Ireland and Northern Ireland in March, his office said last night.

Liberals 'Still Talking'

NANAIMO (CP) — The leader of the CCF party in British Columbia said Friday that welfare resolutions passed in Ottawa by the Liberal party convention "don't mean a thing."

Robert Strachan said: "The Liberals promised a health plan at a convention in 1919. That was 41 years ago and they're still talking about it."

Attention Spacemen!

OTTAWA (CP) — New air regulations promulgated Friday in the Canada Gazette include this one: "No person shall enter or attempt to enter any aircraft in flight."

UN Unit Battles Lumumba's Force

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters)—A United Nations spokesman Friday night said fighting has broken out in Katanga province's northern area between the United Nations force and invading troops of ousted Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba.

No details of the clash were available but it was believed here that five soldiers were wounded. There were no reports of fatal casualties.

Earlier in the day a UN spokesman confirmed that a Moroccan soldier was wounded when pro-Lumumba troops fired on a UN plane over Manono, a tin-mining centre in the north of the secessionist province.

About 600 pro-Lumumba troops invaded north Katanga Tuesday.

Bloodshed between the invaders and Katangan troops was feared and the UN was believed to be trying to get 600 Moroccan soldiers into Manono to head off trouble. A reported 200 Nigerian troops already are there.

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—The Western powers rejected as groundless Friday the latest Soviet charges that Belgium had committed aggression in The Congo.

The Western attitude appeared to doom to defeat a move by Asian-African nations to have the council find Belgium guilty of violating its trusteeship.

Mobutu Quells Unrest

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Congo strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu flew to the nearby Thysville army camp Friday and personally put down unrest that threatened to lead to open revolt against him and to freedom for jailed ex-premier Patrice Lumumba.

After a day of wildfire rumors, it was disclosed Lumumba still was behind bars at Thysville. Mobutu remained in control in Leopoldville province.

But a pro-Lumumba tide was spreading, fostered by Lumumba lieutenants in Oriental province, who were fanning out into neighboring Kivu and Equatorial provinces.

Co-operate with Canada —Then Slash Imports

BOISE, Idaho (CP)—The Idaho state senate Friday called on the United Sates Government to ratify an international river treaty with Canada and to take action to reduce imports of Canadian lumber.

The Senate approved a resolution calling on the U.S. Congress to ratify an agreement with Canada which would lead to construction of the proposed Libby Dam in adjoining Montana.

A second resolution urged the federal government to increase tariff duties on lumber imported from Canada.

Force John D to Polls in '61 Liberal Goal

OTTAWA (UPI)—Liberals, whose confidence has been raised to top pitch by their successful national rally, hope to bring about a federal election before the present year is over.

A party spokesman said that when parliament resumes its sessions Monday, the mainspring of Liberal policy will be to force Prime Minister Diefenbaker to go to the country during 1961—preferably before the summer is over.

The Liberal spokesman denied that the Liberal intention was linked to any strategy of getting the election over before the New Party (CCF-Labor) becomes sufficiently organized to compete effectively for the support of the left-wing element of the electorate.

"Prime Minister Diefenbaker is not too likely to accept advice from our group. But we must make it as difficult as possible for him to resist it," he said.

British Give Freely to Feed Starving Children of Congo

LONDON (CP) — A campaign to feed the starving children of the Congo, started by three London newspapers and taken up by a BBC television program, is getting a strong reaction from the British people.

One week after the campaign began, £50,000 has been received by an Oxford committee, £35,000 by the International Red Cross and nearly £20,000 by two other welfare organizations.

The £105,000 total exceeds by £100,000 the sum voted last week by the British government as a Congo aid fund.

ROME (Reuters)—A senior official of the United Nations Food and Agricultural Organization Friday warned that food supplies may run out for 300,000 starving refugees in the Congo's south Kasai area by the end of the month.

Without food donations from FAO members, "there will be virtually no food in the storehouses along the supply pipeline feeding the refugees by the end of January," the spokesman said.

Belgium Crisis

'Tighten Belts' Bill Passes

BRUSSELS (UPI) — The Catholic-Liberal government Friday rammed through the lower house the controversial austerity bill which divided the nation into warring camps and touched off waves of Socialist-led strikes and violence.

Vote was taken while 400 Socialist MPs decided to demand a federal state in South Belgium.

In forcing passage, Premier Gaston Eyskens turned a deaf ear to a Socialist plea for a national conference of "men of goodwill" to end the crisis before disaster overtakes the country.

The vote was 115 to 90 with one abstention, with Eyskens directing the fight from his sickbed at home. He collapsed on the floor of the house Thursday from exhaustion.

Stays in Exile

Deposed Laotian premier Souvanna Phouma yesterday was reported still in self-imposed exile despite attempts by pro-Western leader Premier Boun Oum to get him to join the government. Leftist-leaning Souvanna fled to Cambodia last December when his army was driven out of Vientiane, capital of Laos.

Protruding Steel Bar Kills Boys

ST. PAULIN, Que. (CP) —Two young boys were instantly killed here when struck by a steel bar protruding from a truck. The accidents occurred within minutes on two different streets. The bar first struck Rene Elliot, 17, and on another street, claimed its second victim, Gilles Beland, 10.

Mrs. Hill, divorced from her husband about two years ago, has custody of Linda while Leslie and 2½-year-old Gordon were left with their father, logger Bruce Hill.

"After this is all over I'll make another attempt to have all the children put in my custody," she said quietly. "There was no arrangement made after the divorce and I have been to court three times since, trying to get custody of the children."

Mrs. Hill is half-way through a business school course in bookkeeping. She plans to resume the course when she has more time.

The child's grandfather, after whom she was named, is Leslie E. Hill, 1018 Walema Avenue.

City Officials Clarify Assault Allegations

The chairman of the city police commission and the city prosecutor both said yesterday they could recall no cases in the past year of allegations of technical rape in Victoria in connection with girls under 14 giving birth to illegitimate babies.

But David Woodsworth, Family and Children's Service director, was not surprised.

CLARIFICATION

He said he wanted to clarify his statement of Thursday that there were between 25 and 30 girls under 14 who had had illegitimate babies last year, that many more were known to have had relations with men, that these instances constituted technical rape and that very few culprits nevertheless were picked up.

The figures he quoted, Mr. Woodsworth said, were for the whole of B.C. and not just the Victoria area.

MOST CASES

"And I may have left the implication that there was negligence in not laying charges of technical rape," he said. "But in most cases of this kind, there would be very little if any evidence because of the time lapse in discovery."

"If the police receive complaints, they will act for sure," said police commission chairman Mayor Percy Scurrah. "But to my knowledge, there have been none, none whatsoever."

"There have been very, very few if any," said city prosecutor T. P. O'Grady. "I can recall none."

Slow Drivers

Congratulations on your leading editorial about slow drivers. Note, however, that the law does not merely compel travellers "at less than normal speed" not to obstruct others. It unequivocally enacts that a motorist should give way to "any vehicle . . . travelling at a greater speed."

In this article you so clearly realize a problem when you point out that the passing vehicle is often confronted with "other vehicles, nose to tail" and finds difficulty in coming back into line. Unfortunately I have never seen a driving handbook that warns a motorist of this obvious danger. He is told to stay a certain distance behind the car in front, only because of a possible emergency stop.

In a line of cars, each driver must still travel at the same speed as the leading car whether the distance between him and the car in front is 20 feet or 70 feet. By allowing greater gaps between vehicles, each driver has a chance of moving up in line, leapfrog fashion, with some degree of safety.

Ministerial Double-Talk

You report that Highways Minister Gaglardi recently told a meeting that there was no recession in 1960, just an economic slow-down; also that "there was a solidifying of the situation which augurs well for the future."

Solidifying, forsooth! A fine example of "double talk." Whom does the honorable minister think he is kidding?

ROGER LUCOCK.

Job for Police

As a member of the tourist profession, and being conscious of the amenities and facilities which tourists to this city might reasonably expect, I am appalled at the apparent lack of consideration and vision on the part of the chosen members representing this fair city.

The ultimate surely must be to invite visitors to return, but after driving in Victoria during the day, this hazard has nothing compared with driving through the town at night.

Streets in the majority are ill lit, and there is almost a complete absence of illuminated street signs. It is virtually impossible to identify some of the pedestrian crossings, and the extraordinary false sense of security possessed by these walkers is something provocative and alarming.

The prerogative of the pedestrian in the right of way on crossing is a matter which demands immediate attention. Every day one observes the abuse this privilege obtains, the attitude of irresponsible teenagers and old ladies cannot be too strongly stressed, and on a wet greasy road their sublime ignorance is quite often only justified by providence.

The folly of this conception was long ago discovered in London, and illuminated beacons at pedestrian crossings have considerable virtue. There is a need for more education to walking members of the public, and this is something in which certain personnel of the police force could be directed.

The services of the police force could for example, be diverted from the onerous duty of placing chalk marks on government employees' cars parked in streets around Parliament Buildings, and so usefully perhaps obtain a more fully occupied time of these members of the civil service, who are at present otherwise occupied in playing cat and house with mobile policemen.

Ross Bay Cemetery

May I, in all fairness, say that upon enquiry I find that the Public Utilities Commission has correctly and legally advertised their intention to have granite chips removed from grave-tops, because of the danger of these being scattered and getting into the power mower blades. The removal, also, of broken curbs and cement from neglected graves has also been duly and properly advertised, and is necessary to maintain reasonable order and tidiness in this sacred domain.

Perhaps a little more explanation of what is intended would have been advisable.

Double Duty

Serving second two-year-term as Oak Bay police commissioner, Gordon Carter yesterday became a Victoria commissioner as well. Mayor Scurrah said, after taking Mr. Carter's oath of office, "I'm hoping the liaison may work to advantage." Mr. Carter held similar post from 1952 to 1956.

V-2 Type Plane Liberals' Choice

OTTAWA (CP) — Liberal party leaders favor a surveillance type of plane—something like the American U-2—to patrol Canadian air space, it was learned yesterday.

Party officials elaborated on views on defence expressed at the national Liberal rally here earlier this week.

The rally endorsed a resolution proposing Canadian withdrawal of manned and unmanned interceptors—that is, jet fighter planes and the Bomarc missile—from North American air defence operations.

But the rally voted in favor of Canada continuing its role in radar warning, detection and identification.

Identification can't be performed by radar. Aircraft are required to do this. But this side of the issue was left up in the air by the rally.

* * *

* * *

It is known that Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson feels it is important that Canada patrol its own air space, especially over the Arctic, and not leave this job to the United States. In short, an eye in the sky.

Liberal defence experts said the entire apparatus for defending against a bomber attack on North America will be outdated in five or six years with the technical reliability of long-range missiles.

Consequently, it would be pointless to acquire new interceptors. However, there was a need for a plane to spot any incursion of Canadian territory, especially on the ground.

For the same reason, Mr. Pearson would like to see an atomic icebreaker operating in the Canadian Arctic archipelago.

Victoria Man New Governor Of Kiwanis

For the third time in history, a Victoria club member will be installed tonight as Pacific Northwest district governor of Kiwanis International.

The new governor, Edward Mallek, will be installed at a dinner and dance in the Empress Hotel by the retiring governor, G. B. Frost of Oregon.

In turn, Mr. Mallek will install the new officers of the Kiwanis Clubs of Victoria and Oak Bay.

The district to be headed by Mr. Mallek includes Washington, Oregon, northern California, northern Idaho, Alaska, the Yukon and British Columbia. Within its bounds are 270 clubs with 13,000 members.

Previous district governors from the Victoria club were the late Harold Diggon and Kenneth Ferguson.

Ottawa Rejects Proposal For Parking Building Here

Victoria city is seeking legislation to enable it to take a lease on buildings for 20 years instead of five, according to Mayor Percy Scurrah, in the hope that private enterprise may be persuaded to do what the federal government has refused to do.

He proposed to Ottawa in the fall, he disclosed in an address to the Rotary Club, that the federal government put up a parking building to hold 300 to 400 cars and lease it to the city for 25 years, with the city renting some of the space to federal employees. The federal government has provided almost no parking space for 1,600 employees in three buildings on Government, he said.

But Ottawa, he told the club, rejected the proposal.

Homes Menaced by Boiling River

DUNCAN — Highway officials are anxiously watching the Tzouhalem Road here where the boiling flood waters of the Cowichan River have cut 60 feet of ground off one bank and threatened the road and five near-new homes beyond.

The water has subsided now, but only after 600 tons of rocks were dumped into the river were workers able to halt erosion which cut 12 feet through a road shoulder and two feet of asphalt at the east end of Clemclemalutz Bridge.

TAKE OUT ROAD

"The bridge is okay now but if we get another flood I feel it will erode the land and take out the road," said foreman Ted Marsh yesterday.

Rain during the last 24 hours did not help matters although water levels have gone down so that all roads are clear. Beverley Street residents report there is water on only two properties.

STRAIGHT THROUGH

"The main stream has moved over 60 feet in the last few years," said Mr. Marsh. "It used to go straight through under the bridge. At low tide this summer I could see in the middle of the stream the rocks that were once on the edge."

However, he said, next week's highest tides of the year will help save the road because "when the tide rises it eases the current down. It is in the ebb that all the trouble is caused."

JUST BELOW

Trouble was caused in the area just below the widened sweep of the river when trucks dumped 400 yards of rocks into a hole beside the bridge.

"It usually floods in November or December," said the foreman, "but I think we've had flooding on the Cowichan Bay Road at least every year in the 12 years I've been working for the government here."

IN PATH

Two houses are directly across the road in the path of the river if it breaks its banks. It would cut the road from the eastern approach to the bridge.

"If it went out I expect the bridge would have to be located somewhere else and the road rebuilt to it," Mr. Marsh said.

The present Clemclemalutz span is an iron Bailey bridge, about 80 feet long, which was put up last year after January flood waters wrecked a wooden bridge.

Flooded River Provides Firewood

While swollen Cowichan River brought nothing but grief to most people living along its banks this week the flood brought down huge firewood logs from its upper reaches and logger William Joe lost no time in cutting them up from precarious perch in anchored dugout canoe.—(Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

Cowichan School Debris Council-Board Issue

DUNCAN—An investigation is being made for city council into a school board request to spend $1,500 to clear construction debris from a school built six years ago.

Approval of the expenditure was sought by District 65 school board which stated in a letter that the rubbish was left by the contractor who built Cowichan Junior-Senior High School.

"I suggest that they be asked why," said Ald. James Saunders. "More information is needed on why it was left there to create rot to the other material in the building."

"If it has been there for a while already, another week won't hurt," said Mayor Jack Dobson.

Record Helps Soldier In Ladysmith Charge

LADYSMITH — A soldier who was found drunk and asleep behind the wheel of a parked stolen car was fined and sentenced to one day in jail yesterday.

Private Joseph D. LaFlamme, 19, PPCLI, of Work Point Barracks, Victoria, pleaded innocent to the charge and stated he had been drinking and could not remember the events leading to his arrest.

Magistrate W. H. Bryant was told that the soldier had a clean record. Fine was set at $150. LaFlamme has been released.

The car, belonging to Ladysmith resident Harry Tori, was taken from near a dance hall and was reported stolen half an hour before it was seen five blocks away.

Jury Urges Further Probe

Port Alberni Tragedy

* * *

PORT ALBERNI— Further investigation of circumstances surrounding the death six weeks ago of John Williams was recommended by a coroner's jury Thursday night.

The jury, headed by Tony Reed, brought in a verdict that Williams, a 33-year-old pile-driver worker, had died after 12.30 a.m. Nov. 30, that the cause of death was unknown but presumed to be from drowning in Alberni Canal.

The body of the Port Alberni man was found Jan. 5 by Joseph Shaw, Bamfield, who gave evidence at the inquest conducted by Coroner Dr. N. H. Jones.

Mr. Shaw reported seeing the body in the inlet just north of San Mateo, approximately 20 miles from Port Alberni, as he was proceeding in a dug-out canoe toward this district.

Arthur M. Tutty, 110 Craig Street, told of drinking wine and whisky with deceased at the latter's home and at the waterfront during the evening and night hours of Nov. 29.

Parked near the Imperial Oil installation on the waterfront in Tutty's truck, the two had continued to drink, he said. Mr. Tutty said he had a vague recollection of Mr. Williams leaving the truck, but he himself had become sick and then went to sleep. When he awakened he had looked around the truck for his companion and, not seeing him, had driven home.

Questioned why he had delayed for 36 hours before reporting the disappearance to RCMP, he said he had felt no anxiety over his friend's whereabouts, feeling that he had merely "taken off."

He said he still held this opinion the next morning when he telephoned the Williams home and was told by Mrs. Williams that her husband had not returned.

He also told of conducting a search of local beer parlors that evening. On the morning of December 2 he had given a statement to police.

Constable Vernon Meyer gave evidence of the search carried on by skindivers in the area where Williams had last been seen.

RCAF Job Hires 105

COURTENAY — A major construction and renovation program at Comox RCAF base is paring unemployment figures in this area.

RCAF officials report 105 local civilians at work on $456,000 worth of projects under direct supervision of their station. A call went out yesterday for 15 more laborers and painters.

Tenders advertised for a new construction and engineering building at a further estimated cost of $177,000 will bring more employment by contractors.

The new building and other station projects will bring to a total of $633,000 the value of projects designed to ease winter unemployment here.

R. H. Poole, unemployment insurance officer at Courtenay, reports 1,937 men and 234 women looking for work in the area from Bowser to Kelsey Bay, about 150 more than last year at this time. Only 45 per cent of the total is in the Courtenay district.

Bulk of the unemployed are loggers and other seasonal workers, making the situation less serious than first appears, Mr. Poole said.

Air force construction is helping the local economy further by pumping some $16,000 to date into local supply firms for materials.

Comox station projects include a $140,000 renovation of the headquarters building, rehabilitation of barrack blocks, renovation of recreation and canteen area, land clearing and a general paint-up clean-up campaign.

LADYSMITH — Two beer parlors here were the latest businesses victimized by an unidentified man cashing stolen cheques.

Police here said two cheques for $125.79 each have turned up.

They bring to seven the number of such cheques cashed in the past few days and boosts the amount of money obtained to $884.53.

Four of the MacMillan, Bloedel and Powell River Co. cheques have been cashed at Duncan and one at Chemainus.

DUNCAN—City council has supported in principle the idea of the Lions Club here to operate a portable canteen at city functions to raise money for charity.

Club member Harold Ramsbottom has told the city that the idea was conceived because "raffles are getting a bit rough to run these days."

"It is a commendable request," said Mayor Jack Dobson.

"I would be in favor of it in principle, but I feel we should have a little bit more control. Some functions might want to have their own concessions and this could cause bad feeling."

NANAIMO — A record was set by Nanaimo district residents in donating blood to the Red Cross in a two day drive which yielded 825 pints—some 25 more than the goal set by the sponsoring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The total was 70 more pints than the previous record set two years ago.

A trophy awarded by the Jaycees for the group, company or organization which had the highest percentage of members turn out at the clinic went to the Dominion-Provincial Vocational Training School whose staff and students gave 101 pints.

NANAIMO — An unemployment rally will be held here at the weekend with delegates of the newly-formed Federation of unemployed from all central and northern Vancouver Island points.

Arnold Smith, vice-president of Nanaimo-Alberni District Labor Council, said the purpose of the meeting is to prepare resolutions and elect members from all the groups to represent unemployed on the executive of the provincial federation.

Among the speakers who have been invited to address the one o'clock afternoon meeting are Hon. Earle C. Westwood, MLA for Nanaimo and the Islands; Walter F. Matthews, MP for the area; CCF MLA John Squire for the Alberni Valley; Provincial CCF leader Robert Strachan and former CCF MP for Nanaimo, Colin Cameron.

DUNCAN—Continued heavy rain is holding up the start of work on a winter work program storm drain system for the south-eastern part of the townsite.

The drain, to cost $4,000, will be excavated by hand and will reverse the present drainage flow so it will go into Fishgut Alley, then into the Cowichan River.

The project, first here under the winter work program, will eventually benefit the city's proposed new sewage treatment plant.

At present water runs toward town then cuts back east into Indian lands which the city is negotiating to lease.

City officials said approval has already been received for $1,000 worth of clearing at Centennial Park.

Labor, Welfare Chamber Targets

NANAIMO — Donald Cunliffe, president of Nanaimo Chamber of Commerce, says unemployment can be blamed on organized labor, welfare state legislation and lack of vocational training.

Speaking at the chamber's annual meeting Thursday night, Cunliffe said Canada's manufacturing payrolls have risen 95 per cent since 1949 while the labor force has increased only nine per cent.

He said it is not only in the interest of the country's economy but also of organized labor to suspend demands for increases in wages. He urged unions to "stop trying to keep up with the Jones boys down south."

The Nanaimo barrister said that the wage cost spiral must be stopped.

The head of the chamber of commerce told the membership that governments are promising and giving more and more in the way of welfare payments for political reasons and said that this results in a tax boost on the businesses and the employer in general. Mr. Cunliffe said that for awhile there should be no more increases in welfare payments because it is costing too much now.

He also mentioned other factors he felt were causes of the present unemployment situation.

His statement was soon denied by a representative of the Nanaimo-Alberni District Labor Council. Alistair McLeod said that labor has no control over prices because that is the prerogative of management itself. He said that possibly markets are at the mercy of powerful corporations who practically control foreign markets to assist subsidiary plants which they have abroad.

Seattle World's Fair Booth

$8,000 Wanted To Boost Island

Ald. Geoffrey Edgelow and publicity commissioner William Hawkins will visit up-Island municipal councils soon to persuade them to help pay the $8,000 cost of a booth in Century 21, the Seattle world's fair.

"We hope the booth will be able to represent the whole Island," Ald. Edgelow said last night. "Century 21 officials expect 12,000,000 people to visit the six-month-long fair in 1962 and we should be able to attract 500,000 of the visitors to the Island."

CHOICE SPACE

Ald. Edgelow this week reserved 650 square feet of "choice" display space on the fair grounds. The booth could stress the attractions of Vancouver Island and its nearness to Seattle, he said.

"We are going to need additional transportation over the period of the fair," he added. "Victoria is celebrating its 100th anniversary the same year and that, alone, will attract tourists."

LEFT IN PLACE

Some of the larger buildings being constructed for the fair will be left in place after the fair to house large conventions, Ald. Edgelow said, and this is expected to draw additional tourists to the Pacific Northwest area in future years.

Auditorium Committee Dormant but Alive

Victoria's special adultorium committee, appointed early last year by Mayor Percy Scurrah to study needs and possibilities, still exists but has no reason to meet at present, Chairman Ald. Austin Curtis said yesterday.

"I imagine we'll have a public meeting one of these days," he said.

Last activity of the committee, in the summer, was to compile data from civic auditoriums in other cities. But then it sat back to wait for a "possible development" which, Ald. Curtis said, might influence the course of its deliberations.

Bowker Creek Drive Stands Good Chance

Signs at city hall augur well for the Victoria mother leading a drive to have further work done by the city to make Bowker Creek safer.

Mrs. Florence Rogers, 3044 Doncaster, has obtained more than 100 signatures on a petition for covering of the creek.

By coincidence, the part of the creek in her neighborhood is the part scheduled to receive first attention if city council approves engineering department plans at budget time, and Mayor Percy Scurrah has called for "continued attention" to it.

The creek, the mayor said in his inaugural address, remains a nuisance because as long as it remains open it will be a hazard to children; its meandering route destroys good building lots, its presence depreciates land values and its maintenance is costly.

"For these reasons," he said, "we should continue in our program of rerouting and enclosing this waterway in an adequate reinforced concrete underground culvert."

City engineer James Garnett said yesterday he hopes to see all of the city portion of the creek south of Hillside rerouted and enclosed in the next three years or so.

Art Show Possible

Paintings, tapestries and silverware from the Duke of Bedford's Woburn Abbey collection, now on show in Portland, may be exhibited in Victoria before being returned to England.

A spokesman for the Greater Victoria Art Gallery said yesterday negotiations are being conducted and it is possible the collection may come here while it is in the Pacific Northwest area.

Campbell River

One Dead, One Hurt In Car-Truck Crash

CAMPBELL RIVER — One man is dead and another in hospital here following an accident late yesterday afternoon involving a car, a light delivery and an oil truck.

Dead is Nicholas Eftoda, Willow Point, driver of a pick-up truck which was crushed beneath a northbound Standard Oil Company tanker.

Frederick Baker, a passenger in the Eftoda vehicle, is suffering a broken leg and back injuries.

Witnesses said the oil truck skidded into the path of the oncoming light delivery after driver Peter Byers applied the brakes to avoid colliding with the rear of a car which made a left turn in front of him. Byers was shaken up but apparently uninjured.

Lloyd Puttonen, driver of the car, was also unhurt and his vehicle sustained only minor damage when clipped by the oil truck from behind.

The accident happened about a half mile south of Campbell River on the Island Highway.

The oil truck sheared off a power pole and three mailboxes before coming to rest after striking the truck driven by Eftoda.

An inquest is to be held here on Monday.

Speed Up Air Terminal Mayor Beseeches Ottawa

Mayor Percy Scurrah yesterday expressed concern again over delay in the start of construction of a new air terminal at Patricia Bay.

"I have had no further word from Ottawa," he said, "but I have written the deputy minister (of transport) asking if he can possibly accelerate the plans and the building because I personally feel we should have the terminal open for the spring of 1962.

"If we can attract half a million visitors from the Century 21 Exposition in Seattle we are going to need every possible means of transportation, and in my opinion should have it ready to create a good impression. We should have the facilities we will need to handle the passengers."

THE HARD SELL: There's a local telephone number you can dial if you want to find out the time.

But you're in for a unique experience before a sugar and honey voice comes on the line to purr: "The time is 3.13 p.m. exactly."

"Hello, this is Gary Cooper!" screams a voice as soon as your call is answered. This is followed instantly by a second voice with the hard sell: "You can't beat the prices at . . . For a deal and a good deal more buy at . . ."

Out J. T. Jones did a little research. He made 44 calls, one after the other.

Each commercial began with a voice stating this was such and such a Hollywood star. Names included Janet Blair, who asks you to buy certain coal and oil; Mitzi Gaynor, Lloyd Bridges and Frank Sinatra, who all appear crazy about a certain brand of automobile; Jimmy Stewart, plugging a delicatessen; Ann Blyth, a clothing store; and so forth.

THE BIG SQUEEZE: Further details of the provincial government's crackdown on spending for the next three months continue to filter into this receiving station.

An informant tells us that one result of the financial squeeze in the education department is that no new pupils will be added to correspondence school rolls until after April 1 next.

We would normally accept Education Minister Leslie R. Peterson's "that's news to me" comment without question. But the bland manner in which Premier Bennett denied the existence of any crackdown orders has made us a trifle suspicious.

Then there is the notice addressed to all civil servants which reads, in part:

"Telephone traffic on the parliament buildings switchboard is steadily increasing. Operators and equipment are being used to the maximum and this situation will be aggravated by additional demands during the following session of the legislature. It is not policy to add equipment or operators at this time . . ."

Alaska 'Sees' Reds' Missile

Space Bid Near

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A U.S. radar station in Alaska detected an object with "missile characteristics" fired from Russia toward the Pacific last night as the head of the U.S. space program said a Soviet man-in-space shot might be imminent.

As of early this morning the air force radar post at Shemya Island, Alaska, had not been able to confirm that the object landed in the ocean. No other free world tracking stations reported spotting the object immediately.

The navy reported Wednesday that three Russian missile tracking ships were heading toward a target area about 1,000 miles west of Hawaii.

Because the Soviet ships were not expected to reach the impact area until today and Russia has not warned of a rocket shot, the navy was inclined to believe the object fired last night was a satellite rather than a missile whose nose cone the Russians would want to fish from the ocean. Other sources, however, felt the object was a missile.

T. Keith Glennan, chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said he would not be surprised if the Russians tried to launch a man into orbit "any day."

Glennan said next Friday, the date of President-elect John F. Kennedy's inauguration, would be a "nice day" for a Soviet man-in-space try. He noted that in the past Russia has timed some of its space spectaculars to coincide with important events.

The space chief made his statement before the air force announced that its radar station had spotted the Russian object. It was the first time the United States has publicly announced it had spotted a Russian missile as it was launched.

Kennedy

Position Perfect On Pact

VANCOUVER (CP)—Lands and Forest Minister Ray Williston of British Columbia said Friday that U.S. President-elect John Kennedy is in a "wonderful political position" regarding the Canada-U.S. Columbia River treaty.

The treaty is due for signature Monday by President Eisenhower's administration.

The minister stressed signature only meant the proposed treaty would be ready for submission to the U.S. Congress.

"There is still much work and examination to go on before the treaty is an action document," said Mr. Williston, who added there must be public hearings over applications for water licences.

He said an Eisenhower signature would mean the treaty could be considered by the new U.S. government without having to go back over a year's work with a Kennedy man.

Tot Still in Coma Charges Possible

By TED SHACKLEFORD

RCMP may decide today whether charges will be laid in connection with a head injury suffered by Leslie Hill, the three-year-old West Coast girl fighting for her life in Royal Jubilee Hospital.

The child has been in a coma since she underwent a delicate, 2½-hour head operation early Thursday afternoon. Hospital bulletins have consistently described her condition as "critical."

ONLY CHANGE

Only change in her condition came yesterday when nurses reported some apparent weakness in the right side of her body. "She doesn't appear to have been moving her right side very much," a hospital spokesman said.

He added that any weakness would not be caused by the operation, but would be a result of the original head injury.

RCMP at Ucluelet completed their investigation into the circumstances surrounding the child's injury yesterday.

TO FLY BACK

Staff Sgt. W. R. Morgan, of Victoria, who flew to the West Coast town Thursday, will make an attempt to fly back to Victoria today, RCMP Inspector G. A. Gerrie said last night.

Poor weather may delay Staff Sgt. Morgan's return, but he is expected to confer with Insp. Gerrie immediately on arrival in Victoria.

VIGIL CONTINUES

Meanwhile, Mrs. Donna Hill, mother of the injured child, is continuing her vigil, at the bedside. After remaining with the child from 11 a.m. Thursday morning, Mrs. Hill returned to her home at 1539 Belcher about 3 p.m. for a nap on the advice of the child's doctor.

Pale and drawn, with dark circles under her eyes, Mrs. Hill returned to the hospital early last night to continue her vigil.

"It's hard to tell if she knows me," she said. "She opens her eyes and just looks at you. About 1 p.m. I told her we love her and Linda (her 4½-year-old sister) is waiting for her to get better.

"She lifted her bad arm halfway over her body."

Martin Berates PTA President

VANCOUVER (CP) — Directors of the B.C. Parent-Teachers Federation said last night that at their meeting, Health Minister Martin attacked the president of the federation for what he called her "rotten remarks" about mental health and welfare services in the province.

A statement by the directors said the board met in Vancouver and backed president Mrs. H. L. Horan in her call for release of a survey by the American Psychiatric Association designed to improve B.C. mental health services.

TELEPHONE CALL

The statement said the meeting was interrupted by a telephone call from Mr. Martin who "berated Mrs. Horan for her 'rotten remarks' in the press."

The directors said Martin told Mrs. Horan he intends to take her remarks to the legislature.

In attacking the government on its mental health and welfare policy, Mrs. Horan had said:

"The government continues to advertise for highly-trained personnel and at ridiculously low salaries, and when they got no response they threw up their hands and said: 'We did the best we could.'"

RELEASE REPORT

PTA directors decided to write the government asking for the release of the psychiatric association report "at the earliest possible date."

More Welfare Men Blast B.C. Policy

VANCOUVER (CP) — Spokesmen for two more B.C. social service organizations said Friday night there is urgent need for improvement in the welfare services of the provincial government.

Dr. C. J. M. Willoughby of Kamloops, president of the B.C. Association of Community Funds and Councils, called for an investigation of the critical problems faced by the public welfare services and said fast action is needed.

WELL KNOWN

Father J. E. Reiter, executive director of the Catholic Children's Aid Society, said understaffing and overwork of the government services are well known to those involved in welfare work in B.C.

Dr. Willoughby said an increasing load of welfare work will fall in future on voluntary agencies.

"Our directors can confirm from their own experience the plight of many families and children requiring help from the provincial welfare services," he said.

INCREASE SEEN

He predicted increasing problems of delinquency and family breakdown.

Father Reiter said the provincial child welfare service placed only half as many Roman Catholic children for adoption in 1960 as in 1959. He said at least 15 children were denied an adopted home in 1960 who otherwise would have had a family.

Liberals 'Still Talking'

NANAIMO (CP) — The leader of the CCF party in British Columbia said Friday that welfare resolutions passed in Ottawa by the Liberal party convention "don't mean a thing."

UN Unit Battles Lumumba's Force

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters)—A United Nations spokesman Friday night said fighting has broken out in Katanga province's northern area between the United Nations force and invading troops of ousted Congolese premier Patrice Lumumba.

No details of the clash were available but it was believed here that five soldiers were wounded. There were no reports of fatal casualties.

Earlier in the day a UN spokesman confirmed that a Moroccan soldier was wounded when pro-Lumumba troops fired on a UN plane over Manono, a tin-mining centre in the north of the secessionist province.

About 600 pro-Lumumba troops invaded north Katanga Tuesday.

Bloodshed between the invaders and Katangan troops was feared and the UN was believed to be trying to get 600 Moroccan soldiers into Manono to head off trouble. A reported 200 Nigerian troops already are there.

Mobutu Quells Unrest

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Congo strongman Col. Joseph Mobutu flew to the nearby Thysville army camp Friday and personally put down unrest that threatened to lead to open revolt against him and to freedom for jailed ex-premier Patrice Lumumba.

After a day of wildfire rumors, it was disclosed Lumumba still was behind bars at Thysville. Mobutu remained in control in Leopoldville province.

But a pro-Lumumba tide was spreading, fostered by Lumumba lieutenants in Oriental province, who were fanning out into neighboring Kivu and Equatorial provinces.

Co-operate with Canada —Then Slash Imports

BOISE, Idaho (CP)—The Idaho state senate Friday called on the United States government to ratify an international river treaty with Canada and to take action to reduce imports of Canadian lumber.

The Senate approved a resolution calling on the U.S. Congress to ratify an agreement with Canada which would lead to construction of the proposed Libby Dam in adjoining Montana.

A second resolution urged the federal government to increase tariff duties on lumber imported from Canada.

Force John D to Polls in '61 Liberal Goal

OTTAWA (UPI)—Liberals, whose confidence has been raised to top pitch by their successful national rally, hope to bring about a federal election before the present year is over.

A party spokesman said that when parliament resumes its sessions Monday, the mainspring of Liberal policy will be to force Prime Minister Diefenbaker to go to the country during 1961—preferably before the summer is over.

The Liberal spokesman denied that the Liberal intention was linked to any strategy of getting the election over before the New Party (CCF-Labor) becomes sufficiently organized to compete effectively for the support of the left-wing element of the electorate.

"Prime Minister Diefenbaker is not too likely to accept advice from our group. But we must make it as difficult as possible for him to resist it," he said.
